DROUGHT-STRICKEN FARMERS GET AID

Hon. J. G. Gardiner Pledges Comfort For Westerners

Aid for the drought-stricken prairie farmers was promised here Friday by Hon. J. G. Gardiner, federal minister of agriculture. Mr. Gardiner charged that the western farmers could not regain their former state of prosperity until both public and private debts were readjusted radically. He pledged maintenance of drought-area farmers through the winter months.

He was speaking to a joint meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and Chamber of Mines, held in the Macdonald hotel at noon.

The impression had been conveyed at Lethbridge, he said, that the Dominion government would reduce interest. This was not correct. The Dominion government would not reduce interest. It would be reduced by the mortgage and lending companies, and by the mortgage and lending companies of their own free will.

FIRST SPEECH HERE

Opening his address Mr. Gardiner said that he was particularly thankful to speak here because of present conditions in Canada and particularly in western Canada. It was his first speech in Edmonton.

The problem he was about to discuss, he said, was associated with the open prairies lying on this side of the international boundary.

Mr. Gardiner declared that those who have lived for the past 35 years or more in the prairie sections of western Canada have some knowledge of climatic conditions which have to be contended with.

After the experience of the past six years with comparatively low years and comparatively low prices for farm products, people living on the prairies were still looking forward to that big crop which seems to be a long time in arriving, said the federal minister.

IMMEDIATE ACTION

Governments had now been forced to the conclusion that immediate action had to be taken to solve the problem presented by the vast drought area—the open prairie section of the prairie provinces.

This area, continued Mr. Gardiner, was comparatively dry, and if this were not the case the west could not produce No. 1 wheat. If there was more rain than the average precipitation in any year the country would be unable to maintain farm homes, for abnormal rain would bring rust and frost to the crops.

Prior to the formation of Saskatchewan in 1906 the northeastern section of the province was practically all homesteads. At that time annual production of wheat was 35,000,000 bushels, as compared to 321,000,000 bushels in 1928.

Previous to the opening up of the Peace River country, the same conditions existed in Alberta. The great wheat producing part of Canada is the open prairie country," he said.

MARKET CONDITIONS

Referring briefly to the question of marketing conditions in the west, Mr. Gardiner reminded his audience that this matter was now being probed by a government commission and that, therefore, he did not desire to deal with marketing methods, past or present.

Not many years ago, he said, Canada was concerned about the abnormal production of world grain. Now grain growers were not concerned about markets as about the ability of the country to produce enough grain to meet demands.

Canada had good markets for wheat, but there would have to be close contacts with consumers, Mr. Gardiner declared.

THE FUTURE

Discussing what might be the future of the drought area, Mr. Gardiner touched on the duties of government to remedy conditions.

The area under discussion had produced less than six bushels of wheat to the acre on the average.

"Take the price of wheat over that period, multiply it by six and then attempt to figure out how anyone could possibly exist on the wealth produced," said Mr. Gardiner.

"One of the main problems to be faced when you consider the complete crop failure of 1930 in many prairie districts, was that of helping the people therein to maintain themselves."

PROVIDE NECESSITIES

"The Federal government in cooperation with the provinces and municipal councils are going to provide the absolute necessities of life for these residents.

"By that I do not mean that money which is not essential will be spent, but it is absolutely necessary that these people be maintained through the coming winter in a reasonable degree of comfort," said the speaker.

LIFT THE LOAD

"We cannot go on from year to year without effort to re-establish this social drought area. To carry out this policy it will be necessary to have the co-operation of provincial governments, municipal governments, financial institutions and the transportation companies.

"It is unfair to expect settlers to carry the load of interest which they were unable to pay in the successive crop failures. This has been the thought in many minds throughout Canada and is shared by the lending companies," stated Mr. Gardiner.

Mr. Gardiner outlined steps taken

M'GEER AVERS SOCREDS MAY SWEEP CANADA

Unless Government Does Something to Lighten Debt Burdens

MONTREAL, Sept. 25.—Social Credit may sweep western Canada if the Dominion government does not lighten the debt burden of western provinces and cities, said Mayor Gerald McGeer of Vancouver on his arrival here today. He was on his way to England.

Mayor McGeer said he did not endorse Social Credit, but added:

Mayor McGeer

"Anyone who thinks the Abernart program of debt reform and financing for new needs is silly, is very much mistaken.

"Conditions in the west are serious. For a time is seemed there was some relief in sight for the western governments through increased wheat values, but that relief has had a setback because of the poor crop.

"There is no recovery indicated in the west, and unless the federal government does something sweeping to lighten the debt load, there will be many converts to Social Credit."

"Canada," he continued, "cannot go along without refinancing and without doing something to stimulate a building program."

Judge Condones $1200 Theft Of $10 Week Clerk

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 25.—Holding that $10 is an insufficient weekly wage for a married man, Magistrate W. A. Smith, in Essex county police court yesterday decided against ordering Stewart Mason, 22, to return the $1,200 in goods he admitted stealing from his former employer, L. A. Willoughby, Leamington druggist. No sentence was imposed, and Mason was remanded until Nov. 26.

"If you had got $25 a week during the two years and a month you were employed as a clerk in the drug store, Mr. Willoughby would not have been out at all," said Magistrate Smith.

Mason said that when he got married he found his weekly wage was not sufficient.

"I don't think it was either," agreed the court. "I suppose you found two could not live as cheaply as one."

"It was hardly enough for one," was the reply.

Vatican Likely To Warn Ranting Priest To Halt

VATICAN CITY, Sept. 25.—Prelates said today they "wouldn't be surprised" if the Vatican were obliged to give Father Charles E. Coughlin a stronger "warning" than the one which appeared recently in Osservatore Romano.

Coughlin

Such a step might be necessary, the prelates added, if the Detroit priest continues his attacks on President Roosevelt of the United States.

At Cincinnati, last night, Father Coughlin said the President was "anti-God" because, he asserted, Mr. Roosevelt "says destroy and devastate." He also asserted he would advocate "the use of bullets" should an "upstart dictator" make the ballot void.

Arctic Ice Fastens Its Grip On Mission Boat

Copyright, 1936, by Edmonton Bulletin —Reproduction of any Part Forbidden

Battling ice conditions which are greater than have ever before menaced ships in the frozen Arctic, the Roman Catholic mission boat, Our Lady of Lourdes found herself blocked in the annual summer voyage east from Coppermine to a post east of Cape Bathurst.

She turned back, thwarted by the giant, grinding floes and now is ice-bound on the return voyage, south of Baillie island.

Aboard her is Bishop Peter Falaise, venerable missionary of the Arctic who has spent some 40 years in the north and J. V. Nichols of the Hudson's Bay Company with his bride, to whom he was married this spring.

LIVES ENDANGERED

Their lives in danger from the ice which has the 40-foot schooner in its grip and which they fear may crush it at any time, the crew and passengers are sleeping in the open on the freight which is piled on her deck.

The mission boat is not the only one which is ice-locked. The two Hudson's Bay motor ships, Fort James and Audrey B, bound for Coppermine with supplies from Tuktoyaktuk are both unable to make the trip and a serious supply shortage is faced at Coppermine.

Crews and passengers are preparing to abandon ship and start the long, perilous trip, walking across

Saskatchewan Social Credit Organizer Visits in Edmonton

Debt reduction legislation passed by the Alberta government has created a tremendous effect in Saskatchewan and is resulting in considerable support turning to the Social Credit movement in that province, according to Lieut.-Col. H. W. Arnold, Saskatoon, organizer for the party in Saskatchewan, who arrived in Edmonton Friday.

"The courageous stand taken by Premier Aberhart on debt reduction has made a great appeal to the people of Saskatchewan and regardless of whether the legislation is upheld by the courts he will get credit for being the first provincial premier who endeavored to shake off the shackles of the money barons," he said.

"Alberta's government action is reflected throughout Saskatchewan in additional membership in Social Credit study groups and in a general quickening of the movement as a whole. It shows that the social crediters are not merely speech-makers, but are men of —An Editorial—

THE policy of the Alberta Board administering the Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act is contrary to the specific instructions laid down in the Act under which it is supposed to base its findings.

The Board (composed of Mr. Justice C. R. Mitchell with S. H. McCuaig, K.C., as representative of the creditors and Mr. F. H. Holmes as representative of the bankrupt farmers) has not only not carried out the spirit and letter of the Act, but has so conducted its work that many farmers needing action, now look upon the board as the Farmers' Creditors Postponement Act Commission.

The Board is in arrears with more than eight hundred cases brought before it. But even in those cases with which it has dealt, the findings of the Alberta Board cannot be defended on grounds of justice or equity.

The Act was set up to adjust a farmer's financial affairs on the basis of his CAPACITY TO PAY and the PRODUCTIVE VALUE OF HIS FARM. There is not a farm in Alberta that can support usury of 7, 8 and 9% under the dishonest "Sound Money" policy which has been in effect for the past six years. Farm produce has sold at less than HALF THE PRICE LEVEL prior to 1930, during the years when accumulating interest and tax arrears piled up the overwhelming burden of debt which made the Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act necessary.

Honorable Charles A. Dunning has laid down the policy of a maximum of 5% interest to cover home as well as farm loans. The courts of Canada limit interest on all judgments rendered to 5%.

A farmer whose affairs need to be adjusted in bankruptcy can not in justice or equity be called on to pay usury in excess of 5% on all or any part of his liabilities. The province of Alberta has prohibited the collection in Alberta courts of all interest in excess of 5% on any and all classes of debt now or in the future.

Urges Co-Operation Between Provinces in Vancouver Talk

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25.—Premier William Aberhart of Alberta yesterday scored the policies of present governments which he said were "directed and controlled, for the most part, by the unseen hand of international finance."

He urged the rank and file of citizens to unite in an intelligent and definite manner.

"I believe we have reached the period in our history when the rank and file of taxpayers and business men, who must bear the load of our problems, should do some serious thinking along the lines of economics as they should be administered at present," he told a service club meeting.

ALLEGED FUR ROBBERS SUE HUDSON'S BAY

Sheffield and Courvoisier, Facing Charges, Seek $4,073

Under arrest and awaiting trial at Prince George, B.C., on charges of armed robbery in connection with the looting of the Hudson's Bay post at Fort Nelson on July 12 of $22,000 worth of fur, Bert Sheffield and Henry C. Courvoisier are now suing the Hudson's Bay Company, which stopped payment of drafts for $4,073 made out to them and payable at Edmonton.

At the time they were placed under arrest, Sheffield and Courvoisier were trapping in the Fort Nelson district and had the $4,000 worth of fur in their possession.

SOLD CATCH

After they had been committed for trial on the robbery charge, they disposed of their fur catch.

They sold the furs, in the presence of police, to Thomas Clark, manager at the Fort Nelson post, which they are charged with robbing. Clark issued Hudson's Bay company drafts for $2,463 and $1,610, payable at Edmonton to Sheffield and Courvoisier, respectively.

The drafts were put through the Prince George branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, but payment of them was refused at Edmonton.

ISSUES WRITS

Writs in a suit to enforce payment of the drafts have now been issued by A. McB. Young, counsel for the two men. If this is contested it will be tried at Prince George.

The two men will be tried at the fall sitting of the Court of Assize, which opens at Prince George Wednesday, October 7.

Four Thousand Prisoners Placed Where Shells Would Fall

BILBAO, Spain, Sept. 25.—(By warship to Saint Jean de Luz)—A threatened Fascist bombardment of this northern coastal city, scheduled for 1 a.m. today, failed to occur after the defenders had placed 4,000 prisoners near points which were expected to be targets of the attackers.

Gen. Emilio Mola, commanding the insurgents in this region, had given warning his forces would attack Bilbao from land, sea and air unless the government forces surrendered.

Observers here believed bombardments from the sea and the air were possible but it was thought the insurgents were too far away for a land offensive.

Three hostage ships were brought closer to the aviation field and the munitions plant, which officials believed would be sure targets of the Fascist if they bombarded the city.

The move meant virtual death sentences for at least some of the prisoners from their fellows' own shells if an attack were made.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Agricultural America today had the promise of Governor Alf. Landon that his election to the White House in November would mean protection of the domestic market for the domestic producer.

The Republican nominee for the presidency last night charged in an address that the reciprocal trade program of the Roosevelt administration "delayed recovery for our farmers" and sold them "down the river."

He delivered his speech in Minneapolis, hub of a rich dairying country and close to the Canadian border. He slapped at all reciprocity pacts worked by President Roosevelt, but singled out the agreement with "our very good friend Canada" for special mention. The dairy and cattle articles the ice to Coppermine. Rescue by airplane is out of the question as there is neither sufficient open water for a pontoon landing or flat space for a ski landing.

EDMONTONIANS SAFE

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ross of the Hudson's Bay Company, faced a stern battle with the ice, according to last word received when their boat was frozen in 200 miles from Reid Island, north of Coronation Gulf.

They were aboard the Saint Roche, the only vessel which made the western Arctic trip this summer from Tuktoyaktuk to Coppermine.

The Coppermine supply situation is critical, the only coal being at the Royal Canadian Signals station and it is reported that all residents of that spot are moving into the R.C.C.S. barracks. Coal at Coppermine costs $110 a ton and is shipped from Norfolk, on the Great Slave Lake branch. It is the only fuel as there is no wood on the Arctic.

PLANES TO RESCUE

As soon as winter flying conditions permit, it is expected that airplanes will be called into service to fly supplies to this and other Arctic posts.

Ice in the Arctic is the earliest and heaviest that has ever been known in the memory of present residents. Pilot Con Farrell who made the last summer trip to Aklavik found icebergs as big as houses at Herschel Island and last week thick ice extended six feet out from shore at Aklavik.

of the Canadian-American pact received his heaviest attack.

The New York Times (independent) reviewed the speech on its editorial page and said it was "as narrowly sectional and selfish as could be imagined." The newspaper decided it was meant "plainly to win the votes of dissatisfied farmers in the States along the Canadian border."

Governor Landon stressed he was not opposed to reciprocal trade agreements and was opposed to a policy of isolation.

CAN'T AFFORD IT

"We cannot afford to scrap our economic defences. We can be a good neighbor without giving away the latchkey to our door," he said.

He recalled the Republican platform pledge "to protect the American farmer against the imports of all livestock, dairy and agricultural products . . . which will depress American prices."

WITH NO LIMIT

Specifically dealing with the Canadian agreement, Landon said the tariff rate on "cheddar cheese —known to most of us as American cheese—was lowered from seven to five cents a pound" with no limit on the amount that might be imported.

The result, he said, was that whereas in the first six months of 1935 we imported only 500,000 pounds of Canadian cheese, in the first six months of 1936 we imported nearly 4,000,000 pounds, an increase of over 700 per cent.

The price on the American market, he said, fell from 17 to 12½ cents a pound.

The tariff on livestock had been reduced by one-third on a sliding quota of cattle weighing 700 pounds or more, with an even greater cut on calves.

BRING MORE IN

"Consider the contradictions in this policy. The administration was trying to hold down the nation's supply of meat by restricting the production of hogs. Last fall it was warning that livestock men there would be increased supplies of cattle on the market this spring, and yet it proceeded to make concessions on Canadian cattle that would bring more of them into this country. Such a program just doesn't make sense."

Landon said that prices "naturally" fell after the Canadian agreement went into force.

He was convinced that if an election were brought on immediately the Social Credit candidates would win a considerable number of seats in Saskatchewan, if not gaining control of government.

City council a short time ago decided to accept Parsons' bid of $215,000 for a 15,000 kw. turbo-generator, or $266,000 for a 20,000 kilowatt machine providing the company could get the city satisfactory financing terms.

Ninety-four years young and still going strong. That's the record of "Grandpa" W. P. Colwell, who on Monday, September 21, celebrated his 94th birthday at the home of his son-in-law, W. H. Ball of Bremner, by doing a little clearing and then taking a turn at the wood-pile, swinging his axe with the zest of lusty youth.

Born in England, and coming to Canada over 70 years ago, "Grandpa" Colwell was for a time engaged in the general store business in Nova Scotia, but hearing the call of the West some years later he came to Alberta and settled in the St. Paul district where he homesteaded. For the past few years however he has made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Ball, and his birthdays have been the occasion for many happy gatherings of old cronies and relatives.

BADLY INJURED

Three years ago "Grandpa" Colwell was knocked down by a street-car* while visiting the city and for some months was confined to the Royal Alex hospital. At that time little hope was held out for his recovery, but his wonderful vitality and constitution pulled him through and he is now fit and well again.

On Monday his 94th birthday was attended by Rev. Edward Colwell, Winnipeg, Rev. Mr. Kidd of Clover Bar, Mrs. C. Sellers, Highlands, Mr. and Mrs. H. Howard, South Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. Victor Howard, Edmonton; George Smythe, sisters Jenny and Edith; Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Latarn, South Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. E. Ball of South Edmonton; and H. Horton, 82nd avenue, an old friend of "Grandpa" Colwell. In addition greetings were received from many outside points from friends who could not be present but who remembered the anniversary.

GREAT OCCASION

"It was a great occasion," said Mr. Horton. "Interesting addresses were made with the exemplary life and character of our old friend as their subject, and the model example he had set was stressed. Not forgetting the rigours of last winter, and feeling that the good old Proverb 16:22 could best be completed with, a fitting substitute was a large all wool fleecy blanket presented by a warm hearted relative which pleased Grandpa" Colwell immensely".

Piano selections by Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Sellars and Miss E. Ball, and refreshments, followed by a program of popular old time hymns, rounded out the celebration by the friends who expressed gratitude that "Grandpa" Colwell had been spared so long as a sojourner among them. Next day the 94 year old veteran was back at his work, as active as ever.

Mr. Horton is himself a resident of over 40 years in Alberta and is also a well known old timer.

Railwaymen In Protest Over Director Naming

OTTAWA, Sept. 25.—Protest was lodged today by the grand division of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees to the method in which the representative of Canadian National Railways employees was chosen to the board of directors of the national system. The men's representative is Brenton L. Daly of Winnipeg, railway conductor.

The Brotherhood passed a resolution saying: "We deplore the action of the government in appointing a nominee to the C.N.R. board of directors who was undemocratically chosen, and we request the government to have justice done to the workers either by replacing one of the other present directors, or by increasing the size of the directorate."

The resolution contended election of Mr. Daly was made through a foreign-controlled union and that the brotherhood believed the proper procedure would have been to call for a vote of employees, a possibility it declared had been suggested previously by Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

GEMS GALORE WILL GLITTER AT CORONATION

Priceless Relics Form Part Of King Edward's Ritual Of Kingship

United Press

LONDON, Sept. 25.—Twenty-five million dollars wouldn't buy the regalia which will be used when King Edward is crowned in Westminster Abbey, May 12, 1937.

It is impossible to estimate its actual value, but the age and historic value of the different jewels, crowns and articles make them almost priceless.

Among those parts of the regalia which will be used at the coronation there is the Ampulla. This is a medieval term for the vessel of gold, in the form of an eagle, which stores the oil for the anointing. It weighs about ten ounces, and is about nine inches in height. Part of it is older than 1660.

ANCIENT SPOON

Then there is the Spoon into which the oil is poured. It is of silver gilt, the handle set with four pearls. It is believed to date from the 13th century.

The Orb is a ball of gold, about six inches in diameter, with a gold band set with a number of various jewels. The cross on its top is set on a large jewel.

The Ring, usually called "The Wedding Ring of England," is of pure gold, with a jewel having a flat surface upon which is engraved a cross. A new ring is made for each sovereign. An old tradition is that the closer the ring fits, the longer will the wearer last. That happened to come true in the case of Queen Victoria, for it was squeezed on so tightly that it could only be removed by putting the finger into iced water, and she reigned much longer than any other European sovereign, 62 years.

TWO ROYAL SCEPTERS

There are two scepters. The Royal Scepter is about three feet in length, and divided into three parts, of plain gold, studded with precious stones, notably part of the Cullinan diamond in the top part, surmounted with a cross and a large jewel.

The Scepter with the Dove is rather longer than the Royal Scepter. It is studded with jewels. The Dove being moulded in white enamel, and set on an orb of gold.

The so-called Staff of St. Edward is not really a scepter, but a long rod, with an orb and cross on the top, without any jewels. It is merely carried in procession.

TWO CROWNS USED

Two crowns are used. The one called St. Edward's Crown is that with which the sovereigns are crowned. It is of gold and set with countless jewels. On its top is a cross surmounted by a cross, and inside is a cap of velvet. The Imperial State Crown is the one worn on other state occasions. Among the jewels in the ring of which it is believed belonged to the Black Prince, and a sapphire which, probably, was set in the ring which Edward Confessor, in whose tomb it was found.

FIRST USED IN 1308

The chair, often called St. Edward's, is of oak, and was made in 1300, by order of Edward I, at a cost of one hundred shillings. It was first used as the Coronation Chair for Edward II, February 25, 1308, and has been used ever since for that purpose. It is covered with hundreds of initials and names of tourists. It rests on four carved lions at its feet, and was, it is thought, originally gilded, and covered in some parts with glass mosaic.

The Stone of Scone is a rough block of red sandstone, which some say is the stone that Jacob, in North Scotland, and that Edward I brought it away in 1296, after his first visit as King of Scone, in the Abbey, from which it has never been removed except for the inauguration of Edward II, as "Lord Protector," in Westminster Hall, June 26, 1687, when it was placed under a prince-like canopy of state."

The use of this stone at coronations goes back to the Anglo-Saxon days, when every English king, from Edward the Elder to Ethelred, the Unready, was crowned at Kingston-on-Thames which still lends its name to the market place of that town on the Surrey bank.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25—Silken threads so small as to be almost invisible to the naked eye do today point to what police called a complete solution of the mysterious killing of Mrs. Florence Goodwin, 43-year-old government typist.

Norman Wesley Robinson, 27-year-old chauffeur, on Thursday arrested as the killer after tiny threads found under his fingernails were identified by police experts to have come from Mrs. Goodwin's dressing robe.

She was attired in this robe when an intruder entered her room a week ago today and strangled her after striking her with a furnace shaker. Only a semi-nude body was found lying across a bed.

AID PROMISED FOR FARMERS IN DRY ZONE

In Saskatchewan to bring about rehabilitation of settlers in drought areas.

A debt survey, to determine the amount owing by individual farmers and how many held clear title to their land, was the first step in the problem, he said.

KEEP THEM THERE

The federal minister maintained that farmers who had had long experience with drought conditions should be maintained by the government on their farms, so that this experience could be used in the rehabilitation of the country.

Those people will give birth to a generation which will give birth to another generation which will find ways and means of developing the country to supply food for the human race," he stated.

Continuing, the speaker declared all debt which had been incurred down to a certain date should be cancelled. What was happening in Spain today was not a solution to world problems. No progress could be made by setting one group against another.

PRIVATE DEBT, TOO

"There is only one way of finding a way out of our difficulties, and this is co-operation and a full understanding of our mutual problems," he said.

The solution could not be found by dealing with public debt alone. Governments must take decisive action on public obligations. Back relief allowances must be wiped out—debts must be cancelled—back taxes must be wiped out, Mr. Gardiner declared. This would mean new hope for those in distress.

"We are going to do this without legislation. We are going to do it in a spirit of co-operation by the getting together of representatives of the various organizations which have been considering the problem over a period of the past two years," said Mr. Gardiner amid tremendous applause.

NOT CORRECT

Mr. Gardiner said at Lethbridge in his speech he seemed to convey the thought that the federal government was taking a part in the wiping out of interest. This was not correct, he said. The Dominion government is not taking action on interest write down; it is going to be done by the creditors, and by the creditors' free will.

Rehabilitation steps to be taken first will be a debt survey to be followed by soil survey of the drought area. He said this would not be a very long process as the survey could be made from airplane, and it was common knowledge with governments of the quality of lands in most of the drought districts.

He said it was the intention of the Federal government to move farmers off poor land to good lands in the vicinity, not a wholesale movement from the drought areas as had been reported.

This will be accomplished by a further conference with provincial and municipal governments, and officials of lending companies.

Lands vacated under the scheme will revert to the provincial, municipal or federal governments, as agreed on, to be set up as common grazing areas on which farmers in the district may feed livestock.

OTTAWA RESPONSIBLE

He said the Dominion government must shoulder responsibility for original plan of survey of Canada which resulted in settlement of immigrants on lands whether suitable for agricultural purposes.

"It is the duty of someone, and no organization is better equipped or with greater responsibility to give a lead in this scheme than the Dominion government, it being fully recognized by the government its responsibility for errors of policy of former governments no matter of which political faith.

"After examining the requirements of the people of the dry areas we should endeavor to get these people into the valleys where there is an adequate water supply so they may be able to grow crops, develop stock and make themselves a comfortable living.

"We don't want the people to move out of the south country, although some movement may be necessary. There are no other people in the Dominion who know conditions of the south country like those who have lived there for years.

"We don't want them to move out, but we do want them to get the good things that exist in the south country," said the minister.

The speaker touched briefly on the subject of cattle marketing, declaring that one reason why Canada could not sell greater numbers of cattle in Great Britain was because Canadian beef was not consistently on the British market.

AID MARKETING

In order to facilitate marketing of cattle western stock should be shipped to eastern Canada in feeding lots, preferably east of Montreal where they could be finished for three months before being sent overseas.

Shipment should be made from St. John, N.B., which had ample port facilities and is open the year round.

"By applying this method of finishing and through an intensive advertising program in Great Britain we can give the farmer of western Canada a better market, a good return for his product, and at the same time keep the livestock population down in the drought areas, thereby eliminating one of the gravest problems with which we are faced today," said Mr. Gardiner.

In conclusion he appealed to his audience to co-operate with the government in carrying out a constructive policy for the benefit of all.

Seated at the head table with Mr. Gardiner were, J. W. Glenwright, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Hon. E. C. Manning, acting premier; Hon. Chief Justice Horace Harvey; Hon. W. N. Chant, minister of agriculture; James A. MacKinnon, M.P. for West Edmonton; D. M. Duggan, M.L.A.; George H. Van Allen, K.C., M.L.A.; Gerald O'Connor, M.L.A.; R. C. Marshall, president of the Chamber of Mines; Col. P. C. H. Primrose; J. H. Ogilvie and H. Milton Martin.

Introducing Mr. Gardiner, Mr. Glenwright said Edmonton was fortunate in having for a visitor the federal minister whom, he said, was an outstanding man in Canada, particularly in the west. Few men, he declared, were so conversant with the agricultural problems of the prairie provinces as Mr. Gardiner.

Sea Going Barrel Is Ready To Launch

Spending about $1,000 of his army bonus money to back his idea, Ernest Biegaszki, Buffalo war veteran, is here shown in the barrel with which he plans to make a trans-Atlantic voyage from the United States to Europe. His unique craft is now almost ready for its test voyage, which he plans to make in a few days, from Buffalo to Cleveland, on Lake Erie.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Sept. 25.—Ernest Biegaszki moved his ocean-going barrel to the waterfront today and announced he would launch it probably on Saturday. Biegaszki said he hoped to sail out of New York harbor for Europe on Oct. 15. But first he will take a trial cruise to Cleveland on Lake Erie, a voyage he wants to start next Monday.

Light Wheat Crop Expected to Cause Slight Earnings Decrease

George Stephen, of Montreal, Canadian Pacific Railway vice-president in charge of traffic, reached here Friday morning from Montreal in his private car. He was accompanied by Mrs. Stephen and registered at the Macdonald hotel.

Freight revenues on Canadian Pacific lines have shown considerable improvement so far this year, Mr. Stephen told the Bulletin, but a decline is expected before the end of year, due to the unusually light crop.

Business conditions on the prairies generally have proved very heartening to the railway executive, however, and he is hopeful for the future.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen will leave for Calgary Friday night, travelling thence to Vancouver. They are accompanied by K. C. Carmichael, Mr. Stephen's secretary.

WOMAN SUES HER CHURCH

Stating he had no sympathy with church organizations which obtained land from individuals on a promise to maintain them through life Mr. Justice Tweedie, in supreme court chambers, refused to grant an extension of time for filing of defence in an action brought by Mrs. Magdelena Sembaliuk, aged Waiel district widow, against eight priests of the Russo-Greek Orthodox church.

The action arose through the passing of a quarter-section of land to the church on which to build a monastery, it being a condition of the transfer that the church would maintain Mrs. Sembaliuk during her lifetime. No monastery has been built, and although seven of the eight priests appointed trustees of the property had signified willingness to relinquish the land to the plaintiff, one priest, John Charniawka, now in possession of the property, refused to turn back the quarter section.

Mr. Justice Tweedie ordered the case to be brought to trial as speedily as possible.

Italy Is Wrathy At Ethiopia's Entry To League

ROME, Sept. 25.—The Italian press today called Ethiopia's admission to the League of Nations assembly a "ridiculous comedy" and "the League's final disgrace."

Alfredo Sigmoretti, editor of La Stampa, declared the League has become "unbearable" for Italy.

"If there was still the slightest hope the Geneva machinery would function, that hope has disappeared," he wrote.

RCA DISCOVERY GIVES TO RADIO PERFECT TONES

For years radio technicians and acoustical experts have searched for a way to eliminate the only remaining serious obstacle to complete naturalness of music and voice as heard over the radio. That obstacle was the "boominess" of low notes—an effect like that of talking or singing into an empty barrel—which has marred many a fine programme and destroyed the illusion of reality. Sounds from the back of the loud-speaker, reverberating back and forth within the cabinet, caused this distortion of sounds from the front.

Theatres and large auditoriums overcome the trouble by the use of baffles—boards at least twelve foot square, into the centre of which the speaker is snugly fitted. Of course, it would not be practical to install baffles in the home.

But with the discovery of the revolutionary Magic Voice feature, RCA Victor engineers have triumphed over this obstacle in another way. In the new Magic Voice receivers, the cabinet behind the loud-speaker is closed, forming an acoustically sealed chamber.

Scientifically designed and carefully placed in this chamber in relation to one another and the speaker are five organ-like pipes, completing a sound chamber as carefully proportioned, designed and finished as a rare old Stradivarius violin.

Passing through this chamber, sounds lose false, mechanical qualities—only desired low notes to blend with these from the front of the speaker are released into the room. "Boom" and distortion are eliminated. Sounds of music and voices are heard with amazingly life-like reality.

ETHIOPIA IN, ITALY OUT

Canada's representatives at Geneva voted with the majority to allow the Ethiopian delegates to take their seats. That as a matter of course. Ethiopia has neither resigned from the League nor been expelled from it. Why shouldn't its delegates be admitted to the Assembly? That the country has been overrun by the gunmen of an international outlaw in defiance of the Covenant and the code of international law, is not a crime for which its people should be punished by exclusion from the parliament of nations. The League couldn't, or in any event didn't, give Ethiopia the protection it was entitled to expect: but has at least refused to countenance its destruction on demand of its assailant.

The motion probably means that Mussolini will continue to dissociate himself from the concert of nations, and in particular that he won't join in a new Locarno pact. Seeing that his signature to the last one did not mean anything, his agreement to a new one would be no more valuable.

While Italy remains under Mussolini's direction it will make no difference whether it is in the League or out of it so far as national policy and conduct are concerned. Il Duce has made that plain, and the League may as well accept the unwelcome fact.

DRY BELT RECONSTRUCTION

At Lethbridge, Hon. J. G. Gardiner outlined a plan agreed upon by the federal Government and the Government of Saskatchewan for liquidating the problem presented by continuous crop failures in the dry area of that province. The plan is sweeping, drastic, and calculated to permanently correct the mistake that was made when that great tract of range land was filled with homesteaders and plowed up for wheat growing.

All interest on debts of the drought-stricken farmers is to be cancelled up to a recent date. Arrears of taxes are to be cancelled, along with community debts in certain areas where payment is not possible. Future financing is to be provided for under a much lower rate of interest.

The Dominion is to assume the loss, since the federal Government was responsible for encouraging the settlement of the territory. That this was a mistake is thus officially admitted. Fortunately the result was not by any means all on the wrong side of the account. In wet seasons the "dry belt" turned in enormous crops of wheat, and thereby added to the national wealth more than the Dominion will have to assume in losses plus what has been paid out there for relief in the cropless years.

The most arid sections of the belt will be evacuated by moving the residents to more promising locations. The land thus vacated will be taken over by the Government and turned back to range.

Some similar plan, it is to be hoped, may be worked out with respect to Alberta's share of the dry area, where conditions are similar, arose from the same mistake in policy, and are equally hopeless from the standpoint of the settlers.

The agricultural possibilities of a large part of the dry belt are evidently limited to its value as pastureland and the sooner it is turned back to the use for which it was by nature fitted, the better for those concerned and for the country.

THE BASIS OF NEGOTIATION

The city will make formal application to the recognized bond-dealers' association for a reduction in the interest rate on its outstanding debentures. Whereupon, it is stated, the association will send a representative to Edmonton to look over the city's finances and confer with the civic officials. Everyone will of course welcome the possibility of a reduction being thus obtained by voluntary agreement, with no need to ask for the proclamation of the Act setting 3 per cent as the maximum rate collectable in court.

It would be as well, however, in making the application to tell the association that any negotiations undertaken will have to be for the purpose of discussing reduction to the 3 per cent level or lower. It will do no good if the association sends along an investigator—as it sent Mr. Bradshaw to Winnipeg and to Vancouver—to look over the taxpayers and tell council how to get more money out of them with which to go on paying contract rates. That is a subject in which council should not be interested, and the association should not be left in any doubt on the matter.

The financial position of the city, so far as the interest question is concerned, is that Edmonton has never defaulted a dollar of interest or principal. The claim that high interest rates are necessary and are charged because of the risk assumed by the lender does not apply. There has been no risk in lending money to Edmonton: the record speaks for that.

It it is true that the debtor who pays is given a preference, Edmonton is entitled to a rate lower than the 3 per cent the legislature has named as a maximum for all municipalities.

What Edmonton taxpayers will expect is that the association's representative will name the rate the association is willing to accept voluntarily, rather than have the city ask for proclamation of the Act. Council might just as well tell the association that at the outset, and save it misunderstanding, time and expense money. Any competent accountant in less than a week's time can write a report for the Bond Dealers' Association on Edmonton's finances. The mayor and city council should not permit such delay as has taken place in Calgary and elsewhere. Mayor McGeer of Vancouver has waited eighteen months for an answer from Vancouver's bondholders with no reply as yet. Edmonton taxpayers demand relief now, not sometime in the future.

The Indian side of the story of the recent encounter between several Sarcees and the police near Calgary, is that the police fired on the Indians without provocation, that the Indians had no guns and so could not return the fire when they wanted to.

One of the Indians was wounded in the leg and the arm. Another says that he was struck on the breast by a bullet but that it only raised a lump and did not penetrate the skin. The other Indians think he is bullet-proof and "Manitou" or supernatural.

A letter was received last week from Pilon and Meodie, who left here on the first of June to explore Lake Athabasca for minerals. It was dated at Fort Chipewyan, July 5th, it having taken them 34 days to reach that point. They were about to leave for the north-east end of the lake. The letter came by way of Carlton and Lac Qui Appelle.

Every person in the North West is aware that since the advent of the present minister of the interior, there have been much needed reforms introduced, but it is rather strange that the fact of these reforms having been requested is taken (by Government papers) as proof that the government policy was, is, and always will be, perfection itself.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

The views expressed by Mr. J. S. Cowper in this column are his own personal views, and are not necessarily those held by The Edmonton Bulletin.—EDITOR.

Like "The primrose by the river's brim" in Holmes' poem that was a different thing to different people, the lovely speckled salmon of the Pacific coast is everything from a species onchorryncus to the scientist, a chance to win a gold tyee button to the sport-loving angler, food, clothing, furniture and drink to the fisherman and his family, and dividends to the Canadian canners. After twenty years of agitation having become the subject of a treaty between Canada and United States, the salmon has suddenly been made a bone of contention between two nations on opposite sides of the Pacific Ocean and a possible cause of war in which Canada will be involved.

It's one of the difficulties of our elongated Dominion, sprawling along two railway lines from Halifax to Vancouver and Prince Rupert, that one province often knows little of the problems of its sister province. That's my justification for discussing a new situation that has suddenly come to pass—one fraught with menace to an important Canadian industry.

You probably know something of the life history of the silver hordes that make up this important source of food and wealth—how the salmon, hatched in fresh-water creeks and government hatcheries on our Pacific rivers, find their way out to sea, go in great shoals on a four year cruise through the Behring Strait and into their Arctic feeding grounds, returning at the end of the four year period to the very river and creek in which they were born, to spawn and die. On their way to fulfil their life cycle many fall victim to seine boats and gill-netters and trollers.

If ever there was a fishery that could properly be called Canadian fishery it is the Pacific coast salmon fishery, for the fish are almost entirely hatched out in Canadian government hatcheries at the cost of the Canadian taxpayer.

Only under threat of closing the Canadian hatcheries has United States consented to close the fish-traps that used to take heavy toll as the shoals passed through the Straits of Juan de Fuca. Just as this ancient grief has been placed on the road to settlement, a new threat has arisen.

You probably know that large numbers of Canadian-Japanese are engaged in our salmon fisheries. At one time they held nearly 90 per cent of all licenses and tried to prevent returned Canadian soldiers from engaging in B.C. fisheries. They overstepped the mark then. A small group of people—of whom your columnist was one—took up the matter on the platform and in the press, and did not cease agitation until the number of licenses given to Japanese fishermen were reduced to 30 per cent of the whole. For more than ten years past the Pacific Coast fisheries have become an industry in which white Canadians can engage—and in so doing receive training that will fit them in emergency to man defence craft and safeguard the myriad channels of the coast.

In July of this year came to the Alaskan coast three large Japanese vessels of a new type to engage in the offshore fishery business. The "Toten Maru" is a craft of 6,000 tons; the "Taihoku Maru" of 8,235 tons and the "Hakuyo Maru" of comparable size. They had a subsidiary fleet with them, including the "Tenyo Maru" of 700 tonnes, and many auxiliary small craft, tendered by motor launches.

The "Hakuyo Maru" carried a crew of seventy. The vessel was a floating cannery, with filling tables, vacuum closing machines and a retort with a capacity of 14,400 tins daily. It had cold storage plant, freezing room and a saltery. In addition to salmon gill-nets it had large mesh gillnets for catching spider crabs, halibut gear of Canadian type and tuna fishing gear of Japanese type.

Off Bristol Bay the ship released its fishing craft, like bees from a hive. The small boats in which their fishermen worked were served by two 32 foot powered launches fitted with radio direction finders and manned by eight men each. The boats soon had sockeye salmon enough to pack 57,600 tins.

An uninvited guest at the Conference was Dr. Siji Kanda of the Imperial Fisheries School of Hakodate, Japan. The professor said he had spent many months investigating the salmon fisheries of British Columbia and Alaska. He calmly proposed that the Congress back a proposal for a United States-Canada-Japan pact on Pacific fisheries.

Japan exports most of her canned salmon in competition with British Columbian salmon. More than half of Japan's salmon originates in Russian territory. Japanese have been operating on the Kamchatka Peninsula under leases which have been in operation since the close of the Russo-Japanese War.

Possibly Japan fears that Russia may soon withhold the Kamchatka leases and hence wishes a place in a three-power fishery pact on the Pacific to ensure her a continuance of salmon for her canneries.

So far as United States and Canada are concerned, they regard the salmon fisheries of their coasts as peculiarly their own in view of the fact that many of the shoals are artificially propagated.

But whether a fishery pact is considered or not, the menace of the new Japanese floating canneries continues. Outside the three-mile limit the waters are international, but if Japanese mother ships come with fleets of trawlers and small craft and fish the Canadian halibut banks, intercept the salmon shoals on the way to the Columbia, the Fraser and the Skeena, and fish—as did the Hakuyo Maru on her way home—for tuna off Monterey, Cal., and the Hawaiian Islands, then tempers are going to be aroused.

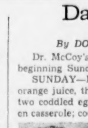

Nations no longer go to war over trivialities as England once did against Spain over Captain Jenkins ear, but the Pacific fisheries are something in which Russia, United States and Canada are heavily interested against Japanese aggression.

Return the lid to the pumpkin and place in moderate oven. Bake until apples are tender; testing by mashing with a fork. Serve from the shell, either hot or cold. The portions should be small, topped with whipped cream if desired; or a little juice from the stewed fruit may be served.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION: Mary Anne D. writes: "I know that you have commented from time to time on the subject of dizziness, but I must confess that I did not pay much attention to your comments because at that time I was not dizzy. I now find that I am dizzy at very frequent intervals and I am going to presume on your good nature and ask you to write me some more dizziness for my benefit, even though I realize that you must be tired of the subject."

ANSWER: Inasmuch as dizziness is a very common symptom, it is necessary for me to discuss it often. There are more fishy business people who are troubled by it. There is no thought in my mind of being tired of writing about it—but rather the thought of helping the patients who have this annoying symptom. After all, if 100 letters on a certain subject will help as many as possible. I appreciate the consideration you have shown, but I assure you that you are not presuming on my good nature by asking. Furthermore, in an answer of this kind, you are not the only one who will benefit, for the answer will be read all over the United States and Canada and if you will now many people in those territories are bothered with dizziness, I am sure you would be surprised. Dizziness is commonly due to either eye strain or to toxic condition, although it may be due to high blood pressure, anemia, nervousness or eye strain. When a sluggish liver is the cause, the patient will notice an immediate benefit through eating more vegetables and securing more exercise. Exercise will provide the liver with a gentle massage, which will help it to function better. If the dizziness continues when the liver is working well and when the intestinal tract is functioning as it should, we have a thorough examination and find out what is the cause of the symptoms.

QUESTION: R. T. asks: "Is there any way of removing moles without leaving scars? I have about a dozen of them on my face."

ANSWER: Moles on the face are, as a rule, very easy to remove by a physician with an electric needle, and if done properly will leave no visible scar.

Poems That Live

GOOD NIGHT

Little baby, lay your head
On your pretty cradle-bed;
Shut you eye-peeps, now the day
And the light are gone away;
All the world are tucked in tight,
Little baby dear, good night.

Yes, my darling, well I know
How the bitter wind doth blow;
And the winter's snow and rain
Patter on the window pane:
But they cannot come in here,
To my little baby dear;

For the window shutteth fast,
Till the stormy night is past;
And the curtains warm are spread
Round about her cradle bed:
So till morning shineth bright,
Little baby dear, good night.

On This Date

A Day in Canadian History —o— By FRED WILLIAMS

On this date in 1926, the second Mackenzie King ministry was sworn in at Ottawa. Although that is only ten years ago, many changes have taken place among its members. Hon. J. A. Robb, who was minister of finance, is dead: so is Hon. James Malcolm, who was in trade and commerce; and Hon. Robert Forke, immigration; and Hon. P. J. Veniot, postmaster general. Hon. Ernest Lapointe is again minister of justice and acting prime minister. He is one of two of the 1926 cabinet who hold the same portfolio; the other being Frenand Rinfret, who continues as secretary of state.

Mr. Dunning, who was in railways, is now minister of finance; J. C. Elliott, then public works, is now postmaster general; W. D. Euler has been transferred from national revenue to trade and commerce; P. J. A. Cardin has left marine for public works; while the veteran Senator Dandurand is once again Senate leader but without portfolio. Hon. Charles Stewart has been defeated and Peter Heenan has transferred from Ottawa to Toronto, where he is a member of the Hepburn cabinet. A decade makes many changes in a political line-up.

Alberta's Credit Policy

By E. S. WOODWARD

The views expressed by Mr. E. S. Woodward in this column are his own personal views, and are not necessarily those held by The Edmonton Bulletin.—EDITOR.

It would be easy to exaggerate the importance of the decision of Mr. Justice Tweedie to continue the restraining order by which the city of Edmonton is prevented from entering into an agreement with the province of Alberta in respect of stamp scrip. The order is only effective pending the hearing of the application of the case by another tribunal and there is nothing to prevent the case being heard in the early part of October if not sooner. The ultimate decision is not affected.

A SURPRISING DECISION

Nevertheless the decision is very perplexing to lay minds. It is probably perplexing to a good many legal minds. An injunction was granted to restrain the city from entering into an agreement with the province which was ultra vires of its powers. Since then the legislature has specifically granted the necessary powers. The grounds of action have been removed and the legislature placed beyond all doubt. That was the intention of the supreme legislative authority in the province and they certainly did not fail to clothe their intention in suitable legal garments. Under these circumstances it was natural to assume that the injunction would be lifted at the earliest opportunity. I, as a layman, thought so, and a good many legal gentlemen thought so. But then we didn't have the last guess.

THE REASONS GIVEN

Mr. Justice Tweedie admitted that the facts upon which the injunction was granted had been completely changed by the action of the legislature, but that he did not think the respondent should be deprived of his right of action. But the legislature did think it was right to deprive the respondent of his right of action. The question now arises, "Are the courts within their powers in seeking to override the will of the people as lawfully expressed by legislative enactment?" I have not overlooked that one of the grounds upon which the injunction was granted was that the Social Credit Measures Act is itself ultra vires of provincial powers inasmuch as it purports to deal with the subject of money which is an exclusive prerogative of the federal parliament. But the proposed agreement between the city and the province no longer rests upon the Social Credit Measures Act. It can now be entered into in reliance upon entirely new legislation. It would seem to be necessary for the respondent to make a new application for an injunction on the ground that the agreement cannot be lawfully entered into be-

THE OTHER SIDE

Editor Bulletin: My life so far has been spent in heavy toil at only moderate wages. As I am now nearing 60 years of age I cannot hope to carry on much longer in the service of others. I have reared a family and provided for them so that at least none of them have ever been on relief. By thrift and rigid economy I also managed to save a little money, which I fondly hoped might prevent my becoming a public charge in my old age. This money I loaned to farmers who were and are, much better off financially than myself. Times got bad for farmers and I voluntarily reduced the interest on these loans to as low as 2½ per cent. Legislation designed to protect the unfortunate seems to have destroyed the moral fiber of our people, and my debtors show no more inclination to pay at the reduced rate than before, although well able to do so. Now they just ignore the debt.

Mr. Aberhart's government has now granted these people free use of my assets for two years and ten months. They are very generous—with other people's money. If my money is returned after 1937, it will probably be in such a rate I will be obliged to use it up as I go along. I had counted with the money to establish myself on a piece of land and so continue to be self-supporting when my days of working for others were over, but now all I have to look forward to is a meagre old age pension with independence gone.

I would like to ask Mr. Aberhart why, if it is wrong for me to get a profit of 2½ to 3 per cent. on my savings, it is right for my neighbor who bought brewery stock to get a profit of 12 per cent. on his, I supported the farming industry, he the brewing. Is this Mr. Aberhart's idea of social and economic justice, or is it that he considers the brewing industry of so much greater relative importance than that of farming? I must say that I for one do not appreciate that deep interest that he professes for us common people.

This is the sort of thing in which we are asked to "cooperate heartily" under penalty of losing our rights as citizens of Alberta. Is it reasonable to expect me to sign the so-called "covenant"?

What Communism Really Means

By R. T. ELLIOTT, K.C.

The views expressed by Mr. R. T. Elliott, K.C., in this column are his own personal views and are not necessarily those held by The Edmonton Bulletin—EDITOR.

THERE are reams of writing about Communism; and hours of oratory about Communism; without anything to indicate that the writers or the orators know what Communism means.

Communism means any force or method which can create in and impose upon any nation an absolute dictatorship.

This absolute dictatorship can be established by gaining control of the military and naval forces, and increasing such forces up to a strength sufficient to crush all resistance.

This absolute dictatorship can also be established by gaining control of the credit and currency of a nation—so as to enlarge or decrease that credit and currency as may be thought fit.

In effect upon the individual there is no difference between a military and naval dictatorship and a financial dictatorship—except the term of naval or military service imposed.

The individual must do just what he is told—and must do nothing but what he is told—or starve, unless he is sufficiently active in opposition to warrant his execution. This is what Communism means.

DR. R. JACKSON APPLAUDED BY LARGE CROWD

Three-Hour Lecture On Health Holds Audience In Seats

Germs are insidiously gnawing away at the body. The constitution, earnestly peaceful, is trying to cope with the various diseases, but the fight is hopeless unless the human beings assist in the battle, according to Dr. R. Jackson, 79-year-old Montreal doctor, who addressed a capacity house in the Masonic Temple Thursday evening on, "How to be Always Healthy."

Although his lecture lasted more than three hours the renowned "philosopher of health," a most interesting speaker, held his audience throughout and had he stretched his talk another three hours, it would apparently have met with approval from all those in attendance.

VITALIZED FOODS

Advocating the eating of vitalizing foods and every physical exercise the speaker insisted that anyone who followed this course couldn't help but be healthy. Pasteurized foods are the curse of the so-called civilization," he insisted.

Only prepared food products that are hermetically sealed to insure cleanliness should be considered by the public, he said.

The digestive tract is 40 feet long and requires rough foods which we do not find in prepared foods as manufactured today, the speaker pointed out. Mastication needs to be stressed, must be fully mastictaed as they require plenty of saliva. Meals which are usually rushed for sometime shouldn't be so thoroughly masticated. They should be swallowed as whole as possible.

The bigger the piece of meat that goes down, the better, he said.

RAPS COOKING

"The speaker warned against the modern practice of cooking foods too long, stating that food value is lost in cooking. The water soaks out all the ingredients and all that is left is trash. Meat shouldn't be too well done. Raw foods are much better for the constitution than cooked foods are, he said.

"Take the case of the prehistoric man—he ate raw foods and was always strong and healthy. Pictures show us how strong they were and what wonderful bodies they had. We, too, can have these bodies if we use our constitution the proper care," he said.

Any part of the body that degenerates can be revived, he stressed. Proper food and plenty of exercise will do the trick. He pointed out that it was dangerous, however, to exercise to the point of exhaustion. A little physical exercise every day is better than too much one day and not enough the next day, he said.

HEALTHY ANIMALS

"Have you ever seen an animal of nature sick? No, I say, which goes to prove that a healthy life of the modern civilization," he said.

"Man is so lazy that he wouldn't even walk to the corner to post a letter if he could ride in a car. He utilizes his car for the shortest of errands.

"Most people of today die at 35, even though they are not buried until they are 65.

"I was well over 50 when I started this new way of living and can match strides with the best of them today." He gave a demonstration of his agility, with several physical exercises and dance.

Dead In His Car

JOHANNESBURG, Sept. 25—James H. Hippert, organizing secretary of the South African Mine Workers' Union, was found dead in his care from influenza pneumonia.

Ottawa Confirms Big Gold Strike At Yellowknife

cause the new legislation is ultra vires of provincial powers.

There may or may not be a long legal battle ahead. There will be a temptation to the Provincial Government to press the action in order to establish Provincial rights. Or it may decide that its interests in the slashed scrip question are no longer vital. There is very little of it circulating—thanks to its own mismanagement—and it may be losing interest in the whole subject. In any case it can be taken for granted that the social credit programme in some form or other will be carried to the Privy Council. If the clamped scrip is dropped, scrip in some other form will be necessary in order to carry through the social credit programme. Credit-house cheques will be used to transfer sums from account to account within the system but they can scarcely be expected to serve the needs of retail shopping. Scrip will be necessary and a Privy Council decision will undoubtedly be sought in regard thereto.

THE DROUGHT AREAS

No one can charge the present Ottawa authorities with failure to take a large view of their responsibilities in the drought areas. They are giving a complete jubilee of release from debt to the farmers living in the afflicted districts. The release extends apparently to both public and private debts. No such far-reaching legislation has ever before been attempted. But the decence to help the afflicted should not be accompanied by an attitude of indifference to unfortunate creditors. It is much to be hoped that the utmost help will be extended to the one and that the broad shoulders of the Dominion will bear the cost of compensating the other. It is in the general interest of the whole of Canada that nature's affliction on some shall be shared by all. The present attitude of the federal government to distress problems contrasts most favorably with the obstinate attitude taken in the early twenties. At that time the federal government, through its then Labor minister, threw the whole of the burden of unemployment relief, which was essentially a product of mistaken national policy, on to the unfortunate municipalities. The task of the Social Credit government of Alberta will be much lightened by the assistance given by Ottawa in the present disaster.

Man Breaks Back As Team Bolts

BRUCE, Sept. 25.—Crushed between the top of the door of his barn and the wagon box from which he was unloading grain when his horses became frightened and bolted through the door of the barn on his farm four miles west of Bruce, Wednesday, Adolph Laube, well known farmer, lies in the Viking hospital with a broken back.

His wife, brought to the scene by his cries for help, released him, and today at the Viking hospital revealed that his back was broken. His condition is reported as serious.

Dahlias Cross World

LONDON, Sept. 25—Encased in a block of ice 40 prize dahlias from the National Dahlia Society will be shipped to Newcastle, Australia, for display next March.

OTTAWA, Sept. 25.—Confirmation of a new gold strike in the Yellowknife mining division of the Mackenzie River Territories is contained in a wireless message received today by Hon. T. A. Crerar, minister of the interior, from A. L. Cumming, chief mining inspector for the department at Fort Smith, N. W. T.

The message stated the new gold strike is located on the east side of Gordon Lake, about 50 miles northeast of the mouth of the Yellowknife river, where it enters Great Slave Lake.

STAKE 38 CLAIMS

The original locators of the find were representatives of the Mining Corporation of Canada, who made their discovery the last July 15, staking 36 claims. Two weeks later, the A. X. Syndicate staked 100 claims in the area. On Sept. 3 staking was carried out by representatives of Ventures Limited, Fred Connell, the A. E. Syndicate, Karl Springer, Wood-Brown Syndicate, Burwash Yellowknife Mines, Limited. The Mining Corporation and the A. X. Syndicate are planning to carry on development work during "freeze-up."

Interest in the new strike is indicated by activity of companies engaged in prospecting and mining in the Yellowknife Mining Division. Approximately 600 claims had been staked up to now. Mining inspector Cumming and Dr. A. W. Jolliffe, geologist of the Dominion Department of Mines, visited the area.

SHOWS FREE GOLD

Mr. Cumming's report stated the strike consists of a series of veins, lenses and shearing which occurring in a belt 15 miles in length with showings of free gold.

Width of the veins and lenses would indicate commercial tonnage if the samples stand up under assay.

The rush is still continuing, a fact indicated by the report air transportation is booked a week ahead.

The report by Mr. Cumming was the first official statement concerning the strike received by officials of the department here.

FAITHFUL DOG RESCUES MAN

VANCOUVER, Sept 25—The story has reached here of a faithful dog on Keats Island, Howe Sound, that saved his master from a mauling by twisting the lion's tail—and survived.

It was a cougar's tail, to be exact.

M. L. Korhone was prowling his island ranch. He found another prowler, glaring yellow-eyed from a tree-top. It was an eight-foot cougar that had evidently swum across from the mainland.

Korhone doesn't like cougars on his ranch. He raised his shotgun and sent a barrelful of No. 5 shot at the intruder. The cougar started to advance. Repeating the dose from the other barrel, the rancher hit the beast in the face.

Murder in his eye, the cougar kept on coming. Things looked black for Korhone.

In stepped the faithful dog. Attacking from the rear, he sank two rows of determined teeth in the cougar's tail. The beast, yowling with pain, turned to fight off the dog.

Korhone had time to reload. The epic of Keats Island ended with a shot that crashed through the cougar's jugular vein.

There are only about 40,000 Eskimos in the entire Arctic region.

CHURCHILL, Man., Sept. 25—SS. Firby docked here last night with the 39 members of the crew of the stranded grain carrier Avon River aboard. The rescued men will leave here Tuesday by train for Montreal, whence they will embark for their homes in England.

DIVERS GET RACKET IDEAS

HONOLULU, Sept. 25.—Diving into the waters of Honolulu Bay for coins thrown by tourists from incoming vessels has become a genially organized "racket," according to the frank admissions of members of the organization.

Some day, however, they admit the means will be found outside of the present racket system for bringing to the surface all the coins that have been missed by the diving racketeers and when that day comes they declare a small fortune will be in store for someone.

coins was an unique sport for Island swimmers, before the idea of business.

In earlier days, the diving for coins organization or rackets had pervaded the islands. Now, it has become a business, moderately prosperous, that has banded the youths into an organization firmly controlled in a businesslike manner.

"Business hours" open at 8 o'clock in the morning. The arriving vessels are off port at that time, and the youths, garbed in bathing trunks, gather on the wharfs and piers to meet them.

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 25.—Early settlement of the flour and cereal workers strike is probable, Governor Hjalmar Petersen said today following a conference with Robert Mythen, U. S. department of labor mediator, and Shreve Archer, head of the Archer-Daniels-Midland Linseed oil Company.

SEE HOW SCIENCE RESTORES TO NORMAL THOSE WITH DEFECTIVE VISION .....

At STRAND THEATRE, SAT., Sept. 26th to 29th

This beautiful all color Popular Science picture was produced by Jerry Fairbanks, noted laboratory technician for Paramount Pictures. Mr. Fairbanks shows scenes in the glass plant showing the fiery maw of the pot arches, and shots of the fusing of bifocal lens, segments, are combined with demonstrations of scientific principles, such as the refraction of light and the burst phenomenon of the Prince Rupert drops. The demonstrations of the polarization of light in crystals present striking color effects on the screen. We urge you to see this Popular Science picture.

YOUR EYES CALL FOR ACCURACY

Through the co-operation of the Edmonton Optometrists, this scientific picture is brought to you. . . . It shows the great strides made during the past years for the treatment of defective vision. . . .

EYE DEFECTS CAN BE CORRECTED

By Jackson Brothers' Optometrist, J. E. Thomas, R.O. Eyesight Specialist

It is not as though defective vision is something that must be endured. 95 per cent of eye defects can be corrected by Optical Science. This fact is the one bright ray in the situation. And because it means so much to so many people—perhaps to you yourself—we want to understand why it is so. We want to prove that it really IS so. Then we must understand a few of the scientific principles of seeing.

It is light that enables us to see, because seeing is what happens in the brain when light falls on the retina of the eye.

In order that we may see an object in detail, light must be reflected from it to our eyes.

You, no doubt, have seen motion picture films. Each individual picture is no more than an inch wide. Yet, when projected on the screen, the picture we see may be as much as 20 feet or more wide. Since light travels in straight lines, how can that picture on the screen be so large? And how can the image on the retina of the human eye be so small? The answer is that the infinite number of rays of light from an object can—through the science of optics—either be bent together—concentrated—or sent apart—spread out. The lens of the eye is convex. It concentrates the light rays, and forms a small image of a large object and this is why we can see large objects when they are nearby.

PROGRESS

We would like you to know that we have had contractors, electricians and others in the building trades employed day and night for the past three weeks tearing down and building up larger quarters for our now famous optical department. We will encompass about six to eight times the space that was in former use.

There will be a large waiting room beautifully appointed. The refraction room will be one of the largest in use anywhere. The treatment room will be spacious and roomy to accommodate the scientific instruments we now have and others which will be added that are on order.

We have not overlooked the fitting room, where our patients can come in and have frames and other adjustments made in private.

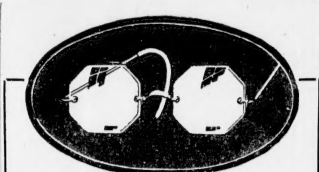

The lighting most important factor, has been planned by an expert.

We have not opened this new place as yet to the public as the painters and paper hangers are not yet finished but these columns will soon announce a formal opening and every one is invited to call and inspect our quarters, but more especially our very fine equipment of scientific instruments.

JACKSON BROS. JEWELERS, LTD.

Opticians, Optometrists

P.S.—We advise all of you interested in better vision to see what science has to show to help and improve vision at the STRAND THEATRE beginning Saturday, Sept. 26th.

The Boon of Helping Lenses

The statement has been made that man, through his knowledge and ingenuity, is helping Nature meet the requirement of our present day seeing habits.

In this respect, the boon of helping lenses in the form of eye glasses is one of man's most important achievements. It deserves its place beside the invention of the telescope and the microscope.

The human eye was developed for seeing, most of the time, at a distance. But man wanted to use his eyes mainly for close, difficult seeing tasks. So man has invented eye glasses.

Any of us would be proud to own a fine microscope or telescope. We would be thrilled to use these fine instruments. They would open up new worlds to us. And we should be equally proud to own fine eye glasses; for these, too, open up new worlds to those who have defective vision; and glasses are even more important in making our every day lives happy and successful.

Only recently a further development has taken place in the production of OPHTHALMIC lenses and science has now reached and produced what appears to be the perfect lens!

These lenses now enable the wearer to see perfectly at the very edge of the lenses as well as through the centre.

Evolution of Optic Lenses

Nature endowed man with a flexible lens of transparent substance situated inside the eye and directly behind the pupil.

Owing to the defects of the crystalline lens of the human eye (the cornea being the outside lens) science came to the aid of mankind and produced a lens made of glass.

The first lens used by opticians was flat. It gave tremendous aid at the time. However, as the flat lens did not refract rays of light equally over its entire surface, science again came to the rescue and provided a lens known as the "Toric."

The Toric lens is curved and gives clear vision to the wearer through the greater part of its surface.

THE EYE SEES MOTION

The eyes of animals can see only motion. Motion, to them, is danger; and the slightest move will put them to flight. Human eyes can see form and color and brightness, as well as motion. The human eye is the most perfect seeing organ on earth. Its vision should be kept efficient and clear by periodic examination and correction of defects. Clear, efficient vision means better work, better health, and greater safety.

Her Knees Swelled With Rheumatism

To Go Upstairs Was Agony

There is nothing in which rheumatism is a greater handicap than in doing ordinary household duties—kneeling, stooping, running up and down-stairs. How to overcome that handicap, and relieve rheumatic aches and pains, is the subject of the following letter—

"I have been taking Kruschen Salts for three months. When I started, I had rheumatism in both knees. They were very swollen. I could not rise from a chair without assistance. I could not kneel, and to go upstairs was agony. Now I can run upstairs and kneel as much as I like. Since I have taken Kruschen, I can work like a horse."—(Mrs.) H.S.

Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salts are effective solvents of uric acid. Other ingredients of these Salts have a stimulating effect upon the internal organs, and assist them to expel the dissolved uric acid from the system.

Manners Of The Moment

"Ah, ah. The correct pronunciation is a-DULT, not AD-ult."

Purists are all very well in an English class. But when they come to tea parties, we usually wish we hadn't. It's not much fun having your pronunciation corrected during a clever versation. Some of this little prigs have a way of buttering right into the middle of a sentence and saying, "Tut, tut. Don't you know that's the wrong way to pronounce sacrilegious'."

Nor doubt we should be grateful to them for pointing out to us the vulgarities in our speech. But tea party conversation of our choice is penultimates make us fighting mad, and we present such good refinements for using the wrong pronunciation of some word no one ald used yet. They could bring in any number of other mispronounced words during the course of the dictionary when that would inevitably follow. Then they might really teach us something. But they may have been acting lately—we've gotten so that we say "liberry" just to be stubborn.—JEAN.

DR. MACDONALD WILL DESCRIBE NORTHERN TRIP

Pleasures and exigencies of travel in the far north will be recounted by Dr. George A. Macdonald, of the department in the hinterlands, when he addresses the Women's Missionary Society of Knox United church at their meeting in mid-October. The travelogue will be illustrated by lantern slides.

An intensely interesting and instructive talk on the Alberta temperance laws was given during the afternoon by Mrs. A. E. Cross of the W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Mercier, who contributed to the program with charming solos, was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Martins.

Mrs. Fraser Buckham selected as the subject of a scripture reading, "Our Duty Unto Others."

Botanists say the longest that wheat will live is about seven years, disproving the statement that wheat grains found in the tombs of ancient Egypt have sprouted when planted.

To Relieve Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises.

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness or head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the ticking of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this paragraph and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer, perhaps from total deafness. The medicine can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist a 1 oz. bottle of Parmint (Double Strength). Take this home, and add it to ¼ pint of hot water and a little sugar, stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmint is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the ear drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh should try this prescription a trial.

Modern Face Masks Help To Win Beauty

By GLADYS GLAD

Although most women have the idea that face masks are beautifying methods of recent vintage, you can take it from me that they are among the oldest methods of beautification known. Egyptologists claim that the golden masks found in ancient tombs were used by Egyptian belles as overnight masks for the preservation of their loveliness. These masks of gold, they say, were coated inside with pastes and ointments placed over the face and permitted to remain on all night. And they apparently were effective, judging from the reputation for loveliness that the women of Egypt had.

Of course, we women today don't have masks of gold to don at bedtime. But as Kay Linaker of radio fame can tell you, we do have face masks that are excellent skin beautifiers. Kay, whose skin is fair and delicately tinted, gives herself frequent bleach packs. And she considers certain masks invaluable for preserving the clearness and whiteness of the skin. Skins often become dark, sallow and discolored in this age of smoke, grime and sun-exposure. And bleaching treatments are quite essential if a girl wishes her skin to retain its fair coloring.

KAY LINAKER
Film favorite possesses flawless complexion.

BLEACH FOR DRY SKIN

An effective bleach pack that is especially designed for use by dry, sensitive-skinned individuals can be made of cold cream and almond meal. This pack is not the least bit harmful for dry skins because the warm milk used in the treatment, reduces the drawing action of the almond meal and makes the treatment a gentle one. Before the mask proper is applied, a mask of cloth should be made. A square of cheesecloth may be used as a mask for this purpose, holes being cut in it for the eyes, nostrils and mouth.

The skin, of course, should always be thoroughly cleansed before this facial is administered. Then take the cheesecloth or gauze mask, dip it into a bowl of warm milk, and fit it over your face, patting it into contact with your skin. Next, make a paste of equal parts of almond meal and warm milk, and spread it over the cloth mask. Permit this mask to dry thoroughly. Then remove it by simply lifting it off the face. Take a pad of cotton and bathe the face again with warm milk. Then dry your face, and as the final step, apply a mild astringent or skin tonic in order to tone up the skin.

What To Do

Will you kindly tell me how to lasten crocheted edges for shelves on a linen closet? Do you know whether it is sewed on linen material, or tacked, or what it is? Also which is the prettier or more cheerful color to paint walls of linen closet—peach or ceruary yellow? Or can you suggest some other color? Enjoy your column very much and gift very helpful suggestions from it.

MRS. H. E. O.

Answer—Today our closets are not only convenient, but decorative and colorful as well. And you can help but get a thrill of satisfaction every time you open your linen closet and see the shelves neatly trimmed with the narrow crocheted edges. Fasten the edges directly to the shelves with thumb tacks of the same color as the walls. And either peach or canary yellow are cheerful colors, but select the color of the closet to harmonize with the color scheme of the room. There are all sorts of decorative ready-made edgings—plain, figured, scalloped and ruffled—especially for this purpose, which are very decorative and fanciful. In fact, the decoration of a linen closet may readily be fanciful and gay.

Pleasant Way to Relieve Piles

If you are a chronic or temporary sufferer from piles, you will be glad to know of an easy and pleasant way to get relief, for almost all of these cases are caused or made worse by a congestion of blood in the lower bowel.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt found one great cause of these troubles from inside the body and to get satisfying relief this cause should be treated. He also found out this could best be done with an internal treatment. His prescription, Hem-Roid, is therefore directed to get this cause and not just the local irritating at what he found to be the chief active cause of the trouble. Once this is helped, pile misery is quickly relieved.

The use of Hem-Roid is a very effective, easy and pleasant way to treat piles. Murphy Drug Stores, or any other druggist can supply you and if you are not pleased with the first package, you may have your money back. Try it and prepare yourself for a pleasant surprise.

Hem-Roid has been successful in hundreds of cases of piles, many of long standing, and in so successful generally any pile sufferer may give Hem-Roid a trial, without cost if relief is not prompt and satisfactory. Generally good results are seen the first day.

First Aid TO THE Ailing House

SMOKY FIREPLACES

A very common reason for a smoking fireplace is that the chimney is too low, so that a wind, instead of passing freely across the top, is caught by the roof and turned downward. The top of a chimney should be at least 2 feet higher than the highest point of a peak roof, and at least 3 feet above a flat roof. If there are nearby tall buildings or trees, the chimney should be still higher.

Another common reason is that the fireplace opening is too high in proportion to its width. A fireplace with a square opening is very likely to smoke, and the remedy is to make the opening lower. For an experiment, place a board, 6 inches or more wide, across the top of the opening at a time when the fireplace is smoking. The smoking will be cut down, and by trial, the proper width of board can be found that will stop the smoking entirely. The upper part of the fireplace opening can then be filled by a piece of sheet metal of that width.

For a fireplace to be proof against smoking, it should not open directly into the flue, but be connected to it by a narrow opening, called the throat, that is as close as possible to the front. This throat should have an adjustable damper by which its width can be controlled. Behind the throat there should be a flat surface called the wind shelf, that has for its object the diverting of down drafts.

An iron throat, with an adjustable damper and a wind shelf, can be bought complete, to be installed in a fireplace that is being built. The cost is very little, and the device should always be used for its convenience and for the improvement of the fireplace draft.

For a fireplace to throw heat into the room, the back should slope forward from the throat, and the sides should slope inward, so that the back is narrower than the opening.

WORN LEATHER BAG

Question: The ends of a good black leather bag are brown from wear. How can I restore it to the original color, and what can I do to preserve the leather?

Answer: To restore the color, use black shoe dye. Black shoe polish will also serve. To preserve the leather, wash the bag all over with saddle soap, and then rinse with clear water. When the leather is still damp, wipe with castor oil, allowing the leather to take up all that it will. Then rub dry.

BRIGHTENING A SLATE FLOOR

Question: The floor of my vestibule is made of slate, which is dull in appearance. What should I do to brighten it?

Answer: First, wash with any good scouring powder, and if the water is hard, soften it with trisodium phosphate or borax. Then rinse well and allow to dry. If this does not brighten the colors sufficiently, wipe with a cloth slightly damp with linseed oil. Paste floor wax also gives a good finish.

Contract Bridge

By E. V. Shepard

"A TOUGH PROBLEM"

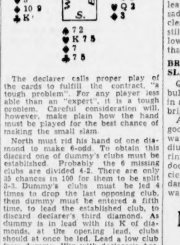

Here is a deal made at one of the most exclusive New York clubs. North, an excellent player, went to a small slam in hearts, was doubled, and went down one trick. East is, I am told, also an astute player. He doubled and defeated the contract with an opening lead of the Q of diamonds. Nobody knows why he made that shrewd opening lead would have enabled him to fulfill his contract.

The declarer calls proper play of the cards to fulfill the contract, "a tough problem." For any player less able than an "expert", it is a tough problem. Careful consideration will, however, make plain how the hand must be played for the best chance of making the small slam.

North must rid his hand of one diamond to make 6-odd. To obtain this discard one of dummy's clubs must be established. Probably the 6 missing clubs are divided 4-2. There are only 35 chances in 100 for them to be split 3-3. Dummy's clubs must be set 4 times to drop the last opposing club, then dummy must be entered a fifth time, to lead the established club, to discard declarer's third diamond. As dummy is in lead with its K of diamonds, at the opening lead, clubs should at once be led. Lead a low club from dummy. Win with declarer's Ace. Lead declarer's last club. It can do no good for West to take that trick away from his partner. Leading back a club merely will help declarer. East should be allowed to take the third trick with his J of clubs. He must take out dummy's Ace of diamonds, before leading the J. Dummy will be in lead with its top diamond.

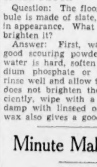

Lead a club. Both declarer and East can ruff, so trump with North's Ace. The 8 cards held by each player about the table will be as shown below.

Lead the J of Hearts. If East's Q does not cover, play low from dummy. Lead any deuce, declarer's hand. Pick up East's Q. Lead a club Ruff. Put dummy in lead with a heart other than that held by dummy. Lead dummy's last diamond. Declarer holds nothing except trumps and the last two of spades. He cannot fail to fulfill his doubled contract. The problem turns out to be a simple one.

Women's Fashion cut lines—Be Personal—Embroider a Monogram—

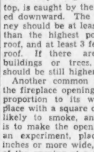

Your Children —

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

When Polonius said to his son, "Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy," I suspect Laertes had passed his college boards and was looking over the ads on clothes. "Rich, not gaudy," expressed the philosophical father.

And this seems to be good advice for all students lining up for campus parade.

Mrs. Polonius feels like adding a few remarks today that may settle some points about the college trousseau, and encourage rather than discourage the parent with limited means.

First of all, buy the essentials. By this I mean those dresses, suits or coats that have to be had anyway. But before buying, find out from an alumnae or another student who knows about the climate, the customary way of dressing and whether he college prefers the subdued type of ensemble or permits greater latitude in its styles. So many girls and boys, too, write home after the first long look, to say that this dress or that suit isn't the thing at all.

PREPARATORY SCHOOLS GUIDE DRESS

Discover, too, if there is need for the extreme afternoon dress or if sports clothes predominate at all functions, as they do in some places. The boys, also, take pride and numbers of doubtful ensembles, and invest later when it is proven they will be necessary and useful.

There is a difference, too, between the full-fledged college or university, and the preparatory school. The latter usually have some say-so in the raiment of the younger maidens. Find out their rules on evening dresses, for instance, and how they feel about the cut of necks and backs. Many go in for regulation clothes, and in this case the parent will be notified and given lists which are a great help.

Shall Luella take any old clothes along? Not if Luella can help it, of course. But bark. Summer won't be over until the frost comes, in many schools. The season for thin dresses continues longer on the campus than in the city. Whether Lou fusses or not, slip some thin things into her trunk. Naturally she has to have wool dresses or changes of sweaters and skirts, even for fall days, which can get bitter cold. But variety is sensible, at all times.

MARK POSSESSIONS CLEARLY

Inquire, too, about shoes and stockings. Anklets are customary in some campuses while anathema on others. Buy shoes to last. They are going to be used, and muchly, on roads, gravel-paths, rough ground and even in mud. How different from city streets!

If the prospective school is north, be sure the winter coat is warm. Rain coats are almost indispensable as well as overshoes, and umbrellas.

Mark everything with name tapes, indelible ink, or rubber stamp. Mark belongings such as cameras, hot-water bags, portable radios or anything lendable, with adhesive tape, bearing name. Carelessness about returning and other mix-ups, are thus minimized. Buy DURABLE luggage. Sturdy boxes. Constant mailing is hard on them. Look for worth and wearability always in buying clothes. Students have little time for mending and pressing. The over-flounced outfit will be a burden. It can be smart as well as practical if a little care is taken.

Boy's clothes fall into simpler grooves, so I leave them to you. But the same general rules of wear and suitability should be heeded.

PRESS WORK DRIVES ONE GIRL TO SEA

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 25—A young woman tugging at the lines of a docking boat "like a professional lake hand" Harold Manning, T. F. McBride take more than casual interest in the British steamer Gardenia today.

The young woman—she said she was Joan Hornbaugh, 22, of London Ont.—in the main, when not tired of reporting women's meetings, weddings and the like for English newspapers.

She joined the Gardenia at Cardiff, Wales, last June as a stewardess. Between there and here, Miss Said she became bored "at doing nothing," so she turned to helping in the deck work.

Sitting on a stage over ship-side, splashing paint on myself and chipping rusty decks, serving canvas, or even steering the steamer, Miss Joan had a list of her nautical achievements now.

The Gardenia came here yesterday with a cargo of sugar, and will sail for London at the end of the month.

Debunker

By John Harvey Furbay, Ph.D.

The old idea that if a person is quiet and doesn't talk he is a deep thinker is nothing but nonsense. Talkativeness and quietness are matters of personality, and have nothing to do with intelligence or ability to think deeply. A silent person is as likely to have a blank mind as is the talkative person. The owl was believed wise because he was silent, but he is actually one of the most stupid of all birds. A stupid person can likewise be a good listener, by keeping silent, while a stupid person who talks much soon is known for his stupidity.

Legion Howled For Blood, Says Witness

DETROIT, Sept. 25—Emerson Becker testified at the trial of 12 men charged with the Black Legion killing of Charles A. Poole that meetings of the secret society—meeting a few hours before the "execution," had howled for Poole's death.

Becker's testimony corroborated Dayton Dean's account of events preceding the crime, and disputed the stories of Harvey Kantola and Ervin Lee, two of the defendants that Dean was the sole instigator of the death plot.

Cardinal's Address In Seven Tongues

ROME, Sept. 25.—Speaking in seven languages, Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli, papal secretary of state, today called for a world crusade in the Catholic press against neo-paganism.

He inaugurated the international congress of Catholic Journalists.

The new paganism, he said, "is producing the same state of low world morals and dedication to materialism" as flourished in the time of pagan Rome.

House-Eating Bird Given Court Okay

UTICA, N.Y., Sept. 25—An elusive little woodpecker which Frank B. Seaton claims "is slowly but surely pecking my house down," was free to continue his depredations today under the protection of the state conservation department.

Convinced the bird is a yellow-bellied sapsucker, a species less common than ordinary woodpeckers, Game Warden George Gauthier warned Seaton not to molest it.

Peru Signs Peace Pact With Bolivia

LIMA, Peru, Sept. 25—Peru and Bolivia have signed a treaty of friendship and non-aggression, the foreign office announced today. The pact outlaws war between the two countries and pledges a direct adjustment of differences.

In Australia there are at least 20 species of animals that are aviators—flying squirrels, flying opossums, flying mice, and even flying bears.

Magazine Banned

TOKYO, Sept. 25—The September number of Fortune magazine, published in the United States, was banned in Japan because of an article which was declared to treat Emperor Hirohito indelicately.

BENTLEY, Hampshire, Sept. 25.—Hon. Betty Baden-Powell, younger daughter of the Chief Scout, Lord Baden-Powell, and Chief Guide, Lady Baden-Powell, was married today in the old-world village church of Bentley, to Gervas Clay of Albury, Surrey.

Sixteen Scout members of the Westminster Abbey choir assisted with the music. The bride's parents entertained 250 villagers afterwards. The bridegroom, a district officer in Rhodesia, met the bride last May returning to England aboard a steamship. The couple will leave tomorrow for Rhodesia.

When Lord and Lady Baden-Powell visited Edmonton in the course of a world tour to centres of all Scouts and Guides, Lady Betty Baden-Powell accompanied them. She and her sister were entertained widely in Edmonton, where they made a number of friends.

Who's Who

MRS. W. CLARENCE RICHARDS

As clubwoman and hostess, Mrs. Richards is known to a wide circle of friends. And as the wife of Mr. Clarence Richards, a member of the teaching staff of Victoria High school, she is frequently called upon to act as patroness to a number of student functions and among the students is widely popular.

Mrs. Richards is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Johnston of Edmonton and formerly of Emerson, Manitoba.

Mrs. Richards received her early education in Saskatchewan, chiefly in Moose Jaw. She is very fond of music and has the degree of A. T. C. M.

She shares with her husband a fondness for golfing and is a member of the Mayfair Golf and Country Club.

With a family of three small children, Donna Gail, Robin and Michael, Mrs. Richards confesses that she finds less time for interests outside her home than she could adequately use, and her chief club activities are concerned with the promotion of child welfare in the province.

INTEREST IN CHILD WELFARE

A charter member of the Elizabeth Mowatt Chapter of the I. O. D. E., Mrs. Richards was at one time regent. She is at present provincial convener of child welfare for the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire.

Mother of a small family, engaged in a wide variety of social activities, intensely interested in all that concerns the welfare of children, fond of music, golf and reading—There just isn't half enough time!" says Mrs. Richards.

Gymkhana Is Arranged By Riding Club

With the pageantry of late summer forming a brilliant background, and with the tang of autumn to give zest to activities, the gymkhana sponsored by the Greyning Riding School at the South Side athletic grounds will be a popular entertainment on Saturday afternoon.

Sports events will commence promptly at half-past two o'clock. Judges will be Colonel F. C. Jamieson, Inspector Ritchie, and Sergeant-Major Hales. Awards will be presented by Mr. James A. MacKinnon.

During the afternoon the Boys' Pipe Band will be in attendance and the Mikana Saddle Club will be guests.

Tea in the cricket pavilion during the afternoon will be served by Mrs. Norman Eagleson, Miss Audrey and Miss Candace Hainstock, Mrs. L. Chapman, Mrs. F. J. Reynolds, Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. Spencer and Mrs. E. H. Strickland.

Sports will include children and adult events in vaulting, ballroom tagging, musical chairs, tent pegging, relaying, and a half-mile handicap race.

Child Welfare Director To Speak Here

Club women will shortly have the honor of entertaining one of Canada's most distinguished women when Miss Charlotte Whitton, C.B.E., of Ottawa, arrives in the city to address a number of meetings on the subject of child and family welfare toward the latter part of October.

Miss Whitton is executive director of the Canadian Welfare Association and has been Canadian delegate to the League of Nations Commission on the protection of children and young people.

As director of the Canadian Welfare Association she is brought intimately into contact with problems of relief and dependency in all parts of the Dominion, and is an authority on relief practices and situations in every province in Canada. Miss Whitton will visit Edmonton on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, October 27, 28 and 29.

Prominent Club Worker Resigns From Council

MRS. E. L. HILL

As a leader in many fields in the club world and in civic life, Mrs. E. L. Hill has long established her name as one with progressive movement and educational interest in Edmonton, and her resignation from club service—because of her removal to reside in Victoria—is keenly felt by her many associates. As secretary of the Local Council of Women, Mrs. Hill submitted her resignation at their meeting held on Thursday. For more than twenty-five years she has linked her ability as executive director and her interest in their projects, to their organization here.

In 1925 she was elected president, an office which she held for five years, the longest term the constitution of the organization permits.

Besides her long association with that organization Mrs. Hill has served faithfully on the executive body of the Mission circle of Strathcona Baptist church and is women's editor of the Western Baptist.

Her enthusiasm and ability will be greatly missed in a wide variety of activities in Edmonton, and the members of the Local Council in accepting her resignation which she tendered at Thursday's meeting, expressed their keen regret at her departure.

Council Takes Up Question Milk Prices

From the National Council gathering in Halifax last June through proposals concerning the threatened increase in the price of milk, the suggestion for studying the Borstall Penal reform system, the topics dealt with by the Edmonton Local Council of Women at its opening meeting in the Y.W.C.A. on Thursday afternoon revealed the breadth of the organization's interests and endeavors.

Dealing with the proposed increase in the price of milk, it was suggested in a general discussion that the increase would be unwarranted in the Edmonton district as an advance in the production of feed for cattle had been enjoyed this year over last year's amount. It was suggested further that the increase would be unjust since the summer rebates at one time given had not been effected for the past two years.

MEETING SUNDAY

Members of the council were urged to attend a meeting to deal with the proposed increase, in the Memorial Hall on Sunday afternoon at half past two o'clock.

Participation of the local council in the address by Miss Raymond Henry was discussed following the report of the committee which had interviewed the chief of police.

Members of the committee, it was reported, constitute a few minutes' interview with Chief of Police Shute and were lead to believe that there was previous record to direct their action.

SAFETY CAMPAIGN

Out of the discussion arose the question of a suitable campaign to safeguard children and family welfare in the streets. It was suggested that adults needed education in safety driving, same country.

MRS. J. CLARKE WILL ADDRESS BUSINESS CLUB

Mrs. Joseph A. Clarke will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Canadian Business and Professional Women's Club in the clubrooms, upstairs 10010 102nd street, on Wednesday, September 30, at eight o'clock.

Mrs. Clarke represented the Local Council of Women at the convention of the National Council of Women in Halifax this summer and will make some interesting observations to make on their interests.

Members will also be invited to participate in a discussion on the question of unemployment among business women and the registration of girls seeking employment.

and in teaching their children to play safely. Mrs. Stewart was appointed to accept suggestions along this line.

Mrs. Joseph A. Clarke reported on the National convention in Halifax, which she attended as official representative from the Edmonton Council.

DR. NEWELL PRESENTS RESOLUTION

Resolution that a national health week be initiated was brought in by Dr. Mildred Folinsbee Newell, and Mrs. Clarke. Other resolutions which she considered notable were: That four years wilful desertion constitutes grounds for divorce; referred to Judge Helen Magill of Vancouver, convener of committee for laws regarding children's and women's welfare; that codeine be included in the narcotics act, making it obtainable only on prescription, and that the international council make inquiry into the advancement between different laws dealing with children in the CINDERELLA'S golden slippers fly in the gay dance that is September, and all of us at the party dread the stroke of time which will sound the knell of the autumn carnival. Oh, never were the valleys more beautiful than this year, with the crimson and gold mounting the river banks, and the tall spires of the evergreens reaching above! Someone who loves the autumn better than any other season of the year told me about going out to cut branches of autumn leaves for the brass jardiniers in her house . . . and she gathered the scarlet and bronze berries . . . took away the leaves and put them in a crystal basket for her table. Beauty brought into her rooms, she went out for more. A MacNair Golf and Country Club, where the fairways reach to the river, between avenues of golden birch and poplar, rising above the crimson shrubbery of the rose bushes, she sat before the club house during the whole afternoon, I drank tea occasionally, and looked far, and looked near, she said, and simply seeped it all in."

SEPTEMBER

Oh! Midas, great King Midas,
Has raced across the land,
And touched the fields and poplars
With magic-working hand.

For Midas' little daughter
The sweet child Marigold,
Has turned the heart of Midas
From hoarding, as of old.

So now he scatters sunshine,
And sparkling coin-like leaves,
And changes green-veiled fields
To ripened, golden sheaves.

Gold is no longer metal,
So hard, and cold, and bright;
But food for hungry people
And loving light.

A Year in a Business Office Is One of the Best Bits of Training a Girl Can Get in Preparation For Marriage — Don't Marry Too Soon

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—Do you think that when a girl finishes high school she should get married or go to work if she does not have a chance to go to college? Don't you think a girl should support herself before marriage so that when she does get married she will know the value of a dollar? TWO GIRLS.

Answer:

I am very much opposed to girls marrying just as soon as they get out of high school because, for one thing, they are too young and, for another, they are not fitted to marry because they have had no experience of life.

No girl of 17 or 18 knows enough about men to pick out a husband. She doesn't know enough about herself to know what she wants in a husband. She doesn't even know what she is going to be herself when she grows up. Marriage is risky enough, at best, without taking any long shots on the future.

Besides that, a girl who goes out of the schoolroom into marriage misses all the playtime of life. She is a settled woman with babies hanging to her skirt when she should be dancing around and enjoying herself. She has none of the flattery and the flirtations and the love-making that women crave, and that they seem to have to have. The result is that they go through life feeling defrauded and are only too likely to make up for their missed girlhood by having affairs later on that turn into tragedies. I have never known a middle-aged woman who went daffy over movie actors whom she had never seen, or got into messes with gigolos, or picked up men in restaurants, who wasn't one who had married in her teens and missed the fun of girlhood.

Also, marriage is a very complicated business. Before going into it a girl should learn how to cook and market and be a good housekeeper. That takes time and experience. It takes experience with men to know how to handle a husband and get along with his people and make friends for him. That also takes time. And it takes time for a girl to get over her childishness and to learn how to be reasonable and philosophic about things. So, you see, it is folly for a girl to jump into matrimony before she is ready for it.

Furthermore, I think that every girl in the world, rich or poor, should learn some profession or trade by which she can support herself and she should practice it for at least a year before she marries. Nothing gives a girl so much poise as being able to stand on her own feet, and nothing else in the world gives her such an abiding sense of well-being as knowing that she has the ability within herself to earn her own bread and butter and that no matter what comes she does not have to be a helpless, clinging dependent. Not even her engagement ring or her wedding ring gives a girl such a thrill as she feels when she gets her first pay envelope.

I do not think there is any other such a preparation for marriage as it is for a girl to have worked in a business office. It teaches her to do things on time and to be accurate and competent in her work. It teaches her to control her temper and her tongue and to take criticism without bursting into tears or answering back. It teaches her the value of money and how hard it is to earn it. And she finds out by experience how tired a worker can get.

So girl who has ever earned her own money is wasteful of her husband's, and no woman who has ever come home at night so worn out that all she wanted to do was to slump down and be fed and not speak ever nags her husband because he doesn't want to go out at night.

Black satin-back crepe made this slim coat-like tunic dress. The separate underwaist has a pleated vest of the lustrous side of the crepe, which also makes the rever collar.

The sleeves favor the new fulness at the shoulders. They may be three-quarter or waist length. The opened front will give you a taller appearance. The smaller illustration shows another version with buttoned front and a small rolled collar. It will look stunning in brown velveteen in rich brown shade with gold buttons.

Woolen is also suitable and smart medium for either version.

Meatless Meals Have Flavor, Food Value

By MARY E. DAGUE

For an early fall dinner that is to be meatless, Macaroni Mousse is a nutritious and inexpensive main dish. No use pretending, though, that its calorie count is not high. Members of the family who are watching their waistline will have to take slim helpings.

This mousse is baked in a loaf form, unmolded on the platter, and served piping hot.

Maraschino Russian Cream, looking so tempting, is light and delicately flavored. It is made of milk, eggs and gelatine.

MACARONI MOUSSE FOR SIX

One cup elbow macaroni, 1½ cups scalded milk, 1 cup soft bread crumbs, ¼ cup melted butter, 1 green pepper, minced, 1 pimento, minced, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley 2 tablespoons minced onion, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon paprika, ½ cup grated cheese, 3 eggs.

Boil the macaroni in salted, boiling water. Use the kind that is done in nine minutes.

Drain and place the macaroni in a greased loaf-shaped baking dish. Then make the sauce this way:

Pour the scalded milk over the bread crumbs. Allow the crumbs to dissolve slightly.

Add the melted butter to the milk and crumbs, then all the seasonings and cheese.

Beat the eggs well and add them last.

Pour the entire mixture over the macaroni.

Set the dish in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 40 minutes or until the Mousse seems firm.

Test it by inserting a knife in the centre.

Turn it out on a platter and decorate with watercress or tomato slices.

Macaroni Mousse can be served with cold meats or is satisfying by itself. Cut it in thick slices to serve.

A dinner based on this Macaroni Mousse is: consomme with fresh vegetables, Macaroni Mousse, mixed greens salad with garlic French dressing, maraschino, Russian cream, coffee.

Three tablespoons sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, ¾ cup milk, scalded, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 package lemon-flavored gelatin, 1 cup warm water, ¼ cup maraschino cherry juice, ½ teaspoon almond extract.

Add sugar and salt to eggs and beat slightly. Pour small amount of milk over eggs, stirring vigorously, return to remaining milk in double boiler and cook until mixture coats spoon, stirring constantly. Remove from fire. Add vanilla. Chill.

Dissolve gelatin in warm water. Add salt, cherry juice and flavoring. Chill until cold and syrupy. Place in bowl of cracked ice or ice water and whip with rotary egg beater until fluffy and thick like whipped cream. Then beat in custard. Turn into cone-shaped molds. Garnish with whipped cream and slices of maraschino cherries. This serves six.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25—Anthony J. Barrett, unofficial long-range weather prophet of the Chicago Board of Trade, came out of the corn pit today with a prediction of rains for most of the eastern half of the United States during the next 90 days. For the western half and Canada, he foresaw cold, dry weather.

Today's Markets

Toronto—Mines

TORONTO, Sept. 25.—The shifting foreign exchange market rocked mining stocks a bit today on the Toronto Exchange and losses were general over the board at the close. Fear of a readjustment of French currency over the week-end was at the back of some of the selling although the near approach of the month-end settlement may also have been responsible.

Dome with a drop of 2 points to 56 was about the weakest of the big golds. Hollinger sold at 13¾ for a loss of a half point, Lake Shore lost a point and losses of 5 to 10 cents came out for Teck Hughes, Pickle Crow, Buffalo-Ankerite and Bralorne.

Selling was quite heavy in Bidgood-Kirkland, Central Patricia, Francoeur, Hard Rock, McKenzie Red Lake, Red Lake Gold Shore, Pamour, McWatters, Siscoe, San Antonio, Perron, Macassa, Sullivan and Sladen at losses of 5 to 15 cents. Mining Corporation, Reno and Toburn held steady to strong.

Noranda and Hudson Bay declined fractionally. Eldorado was sold for a loss of a few cents and in the oils homestead was definitely weak and Texas-Canadian dropped about 5 cents.

Toronto—Industrials

TORONTO, Sept. 23. — Industrial share prices bowed today in recognition of an unsettled foreign exchange situation. Trading slowed down but prices trailed fairly closely the New York movements.

Walkers common, Distillers-Seagrams, International Nickel and Consolidated Smelters weakened about a point or more.

Alberta Grain pfd. was a strong spot in the foods while narrow losses were boarded for the Burry Biscuit issues, and some of the Canners issues. Western Canada Flour pfd. dropped more than a point and the Maple Leaf issues were steady. Brazilian, C.P.R., and Ford A dropped fractionally.

At Montreal

MONTREAL, Sept. 25.—The stock market staged a feeble rally late today but was unable to erase early losses.

Nickel and Noranda were down about 1¾ each while Smelters managed to recover to around 58½, off about ¾. Hollinger eased narrowly.

Montreal Power firmed a bit but Shawinigan and Brazilian lost ground.

St. Lawrence Paper preferred, at one time up to a new high of 45¼, closed down more than a point at 43.

At New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Money troubles of France, including possible franc devaluation or a gold embargo, hit the stock market and oiled down prices fractions to 2 or more points.

There were a few recoveries in late dealings, as offerings tended to dry up, but these were not impressive. Transfers approximated 1,500,000 shares.

PROFITS DROP WHEAT PRICES

WINNIPEG, Sept. 25.—Fears of devaluation of the French franc prompted profit-taking on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today that halted the steady advance of wheat prices. Values closed 1⅛-1⅝ cents lower, October at $1.10⅜, November $1.10⅝, December $1.08½-⅝ and May $1.10⅜-½.

BROOMHALL

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Most of the grain trade abroad realize the scarcity of cash wheat and are in favor of high prices. Therefore, buying is restricted to bare necessities only and purchases of wheat are only made to offset flour sales. This is a very healthy condition and indicates that steady buying will continue until the southern hemisphere crops are ready to market. World shipments are expected to be maintained by larger clearances from Canada and although very small quantities are likely to clear from Australia and the Argentine during the next thirteen weeks, the total is expected to be substantial with Canada furnishing the bulk.

NEW YORK BONDS

NEW YORK, Sept. 25—Showing considerable indecision, the bond market today shared the general mood of uncertainty in Wall Street respecting the next development in the unsettled French financial situation.

Dealings in French government bonds were limited. The stamped 7s dropped around 4 points on a single transaction following a loss of about 2 yesterday.

United States governments partly reversed their slow downward movement of recent sessions by displaying a few early gains in the treasuries.

GOLD AND SILVER

LONDON, Sept. 25—Bar gold advanced 6½ pence to 137s 9½d. Sterling price equivalent to $4.83.

Bar silver steady, 1-16 higher at 19½d.

CITY, PROVINCE LOSE ANOTHER SCRIP BATTLE

Chief Justice Upholds Tweedie—Appeal Rights Are Curtailed

The legal battle seeking the quashing of the injunction granted Ronald Hannan Watson, mining engineer by Mr. Justice Tweedie restraining the city from entering into an agreement with the province to accept Prosperity Certificates in lieu of cash relief grants was advanced a further stage Thursday afternoon when counsel for the city and province sought leave to enter an appeal against Mr. Justice Tweedie's decision before Chief Justice Horace Harvey in Appeal court chambers.

Leave to enter the appeal was necessitated through delay in giving notice of intention to the plaintiff in the action, it not being anticipated that the application for quashing of the injunction would be refused in view of the validating legislation passed at the resent session of the legislature.

Leave to appeal was granted on the condition that only the constitutional aspect of the action would be appealed. This disposed of preliminary objections taken by counsel for the city and province at the original hearing of the injunction application, removing from the case the question of the right of the plaintiff to bring the action without the consent of the attorney-general and also his right to proceed to action without the necessity of having the bylaw passed by the city council authorizing the city to enter into the agreement quashed, and the giving to the city notice of intention to proceed with the action called for by a section of the city charter.

If the appeal is brought to the appeal court the only question that will be involved will be the constitutional right of the province to issue and circulate prosperity certificates.

Counsel for the province and city had not decided Thursday evening on the course of action which would be pursued, but it is expected a decision on procedure will be made early Friday.

C. H. Grant, K.C. and S. M. Field, K.C., counsel for Mr. Watson, intimated Friday morning they were ready to proceed to trial immediately.

Woman Admits Her Error Cost Fifteen Lives

OURDES, France, Sept. 25.—Theresa Ricaud, 44-year-old telegraph operator, admitted from a sick bed today that her error in signalling caused the railway wreck near here yesterday which took 15 lives.

Mme. Ricaud, who is suffering from a nervous attack as a result of the crash, told authorities she misread a switchboard signal, and when she realized her mistake it was too late to prevent the crash.

WOODWARD HITS MONEY SYSTEM

An analysis of the factors hampering the stabilization of price and monetary values was delivered by E. S. Woodward, well-known monetary authority, in addressing a meeting of the Rotary club in the Macdonald hotel Thursday.

He said that it was absolutely impossible for recovery to be achieved as long as the present monetary policies continue in operation. He admitted that Canadian and British banks had preserved their own financial integrity, but stressed that that achievement had been made possible by withholding essential credit from the nation as a whole.

The speaker quoted such distinguished economists as Sir Joshia Stamp, Irving Fisher, Robert H. Hemphill, former credit manager of the federal reserve bank in Atlanta, and the opinions of a group of University of Chicago economists, in support of his contentions that it was impossible to extricate governments from debt and insolvency except by the adoption of new policies.

Mr. Woodward concluded by outlining a definite plan whereby stabilization of money might be secured. His proposals included:

1—The formation of a national currency commission.

2—Give it exclusive right to issue money.

3—Require the banks to carry 100% money coverage for their currencies.

4—No. 3 to be effected by converting assets into cash.

5—Require all checking accounts to have the legal status of trust funds.

6—Place all currency under demurrage pressure.

7—Issue sufficient money to give general employment.

8—Stabilize at that level or at such level as will ensure future full development of nation's resources.

KIWANIS CLUB SEEKS $3,000

Detailed plans for the Apple Week being sponsored by the club to aid underprivileged children of Edmonton were concluded at a meeting of the Kiwanis club's executive and apple committee held Thursday evening at Clyde Hook's shooting lodge on Big Lake.

It was reported that the extensive canvass of the city has yielded gratifying results, and the club has every confidence citizens will support the street sale on October 3 in as nearly a fashion as to guarantee the attainment of the $3,000 objective. Only the success of this drive will enable the fatty-ominem now being cared for by the Kiwanis Children's Aid Society to continue receiving the proper care and assistance.

A feature of the meeting was the presentation of the club charter to President Vic. MacCoshan by Past President Fred Chorley. Jimmy Walker, chairman of the apple day committee, presided.

Premier William Aberhart is expected to return here from his holiday at the Pacific coast on Wednesday next.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

When The Bulletin's Inquiring Reporter was spending a few days on assignment at Fort McMurray, he saw engineers of the Northern Alberta Railways surveying on extension of the railroad from Waterways, present end of road, to the originally projected terminus at Fort McMurray. A further survey was also being made for a proposed line from McMurray to the salt well and tar sand plant.

Businessmen of Fort McMurray were puzzled by the scribe. What will the sad extension mean to McMurray?

Below are replies:

ANGUS SUTHERLAND, druggist: It will be one of the most wonderful things not only for McMurray but for the whole north, and Edmonton will benefit as well. I have been here for 30 years waiting for it, and I know that rail transportation to the Athabasca river, coupled with proper dredging of the channel, would be a great benefit to northern shipping.

* * *

WILLIAM McFARLAND, butcher: I've only waited 17 years for it. It would be one of the greatest things that ever happened here. We need two or three trains a week and we would probably get them if the extension is built.

* * *

SAM KUSHNER, general merchant and fur trader: It will make a real city of McMurray, with all the wealth in furs and minerals of the north passing through here. I've been here 21 years and we certainly need it.

* * * *

A. SKELTON, butcher: If the railway comes in it means that the proven salt wells and the tar sand companies can operate at a profit. Transportation is the only thing that has held up development. Multiple handling raises the cost. There is one tar sand development back of McMurray and the railway would bring many more in.

* * *

FRANK O'COFFEY, hotelman: If the railroad comes right to the Athabasca river it will enable full development of the tar sands and salt. It would put a payroll in McMurray and make quite a town of it. I first bought property here in 1912 and I have been looking for the rail completion ever since. The extension will not hurt Waterways as McMurray will have to grow towards the east, and the two places will eventually become one town.

The Marvel Of Vision

By Jackson Bros., Optometrist
J. E. Thomas, R.O.

Mankind holds its eminent position in the world because of vision —because of mental vis on which is so largely dependent on physical vision.

Physical vision is made up of two elements—Sight and Light. In order to see clearly, easily, and accurately, we must have good sight, either through naturally good eyes or through eyes whose defects have been corrected by glasses.

Sight is the most precious and useful of all our senses. Through our eyes, we see the distant stars, the bright skies, and the radiant sunshine. Through our eyes, we know the features of loved ones and the shapes of familiar objects. In fact vision shows us form, brightness, color, and motion. Vision enables us to study, to play, and to work. It brings us eighty per cent of our knowledge, and vision is the very cornerstone both of human and of individual progress, therefore why neglect or abuse your eyes.

Community Chest Plan Approved By Charity Workers

Proposed community chest plan to provide funds for Edmonton social service work would be a progressive step in the centralization and co-ordination of charity activities now being done by numerous organizations in the city, men prominently connected with relief and social service work declared Friday.

Under the community chest scheme, charity funds would be raised in one annual drive and placed in the "common pot" for distribution among the various organizations helping the needy. This system would abolish tag days almost entirely and would result in a more equitable distribution of monies among the social service groups. It would also prevent duplication of aid given.

McKEE FAVORS

Relief Manager H. F. McKee was strong in his support of the community chest proposal. "It's an excellent idea and would do away with the chaotic condition which now exists in social service work to a great extent," he declared. "The main advantage of the community chest is the co-ordination of services rendered, which would result in a fairer distribution of charity among those who need them. Too much service is as bad as too little.

"There is no doubt that social service workers are being victimized by many persons who go from one organization to another soliciting aid which could be given by one group. This results in duplication.

"Under the present system of aiding persons in distress there is danger of the applicant's independence being destroyed. He is not so willing to help himself if he knows a number of charity organizations will assist him. But under the community chest plan, there would be but one central organization with many groups operating as units under it. This would mean co-ordination and co-operation."

GOULD APPROVES

Ald. Charles Gould, who is in charge of the hospitals and medical service branch of the provincial relief and public welfare bureau, was also enthusiastic about the community chest plan.

"It mekas a tremendous appeal to me in that it would mean a fairer distribution of benefits than seems to be obtained under the present system where some get in distress out too much and others, possibly not enough, be slated.

Mr. Gould pointed out that with a community chest there would be no need for tag days "which, while a good thing, are a bane to the average citizen." He also believed the proposal would mean less work for charity workers and less danger of duplication.

Believing the community chest proposal to be a step in the right direction, Ald. J. T. McCreath said Thursday the idea was long overdue. "It should have been adopted years ago to provide a central collection agency for charity funds," he declared, outlining many instances where social service help had been duplicated by several organizations in the one home under the present method.

Annual Session of Alberta Branch A.A.U. of C. Promises to be Lively Event

Yesterday's mail brought the official announcement from B. W. Bellamy of Wetaskiwin, secretary of the Alberta Branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, that the annual meeting of this section of the Dominion body would be held in Calgary on Thanksgiving Day, October 12, preceded by a meeting of the convention committee on October 11. Furthermore, professionals who are seeking re-instatement as amateurs must have their application in the hands of the secretary of the Alberta branch before October 11. Forms will be supplied on request.

In his note, "Bart" Bellamy hints that this meeting may develop a rather interesting display of fireworks before it adjourns. There will be no shortage of plain-spoken fighters in the Alberta branch pow-wow. Very little time will be wasted in polite piffle and diplomatic didoes.

A number of Alberta branch officials are far from satisfied with a batch of legislation adopted by the Dominion body at its last annual meeting, and they will undoubtedly be preparing a broadside of hot-shot for the coming A. A. U. of C. confab at Regina in November. There is every indication that the Albertans will again stand shoulder to shoulder on the question of pros and amateurs intermingling. Likewise it seems certain that the Alberta branch will give strong support to the four-point ultimatum of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

Olympic Affairs On Carpet

Another question that will be on the carpet is that of Olympic affairs. One proposal to be considered is that of changing the constitution and bylaws so that Olympic track and field, boxing and wrestling committees be elected rather than appointed. There is also a good possibility that some pointed remarks and suggestions will be made on the way in which Canada's Olympic athletes were selected and should be chosen in future.

Another proposal to be dealt with is that Alberta be divided into three zones for amateur administration with a board of governors for each zone. The purpose, of course, is to allow closer contacts and to split the burden of detail work that a few are struggling along under at present.

All in all, this coming meeting of the Alberta branch appears to have an agenda which may make it one of the most important in its history.

Scouting System Mooted

One of the concrete suggestions that have been aired for improving Canada's Olympic chances is that a system of scouting for new talent be developed. This is a suggestion we take a paternal interest in since we first made it in print prior to the 1932 games. In a country with as populated a scattered like Canada's, it is impossible under the present Olympic trials system to do any more than comb the large centres for talent. Small towns, villages and even the backwoods may have many potential world champions who have never been given a chance.

For example, reports come trickling into Edmonton every now and then of an Indian somewhere in the Lesser Slave Lake area who may be a natural marathon champion. He runs wherever he wants to go. It has become a natural gait with him, the same as walking is to the average man. He thinks nothing of running 20 or 30 miles on an errand. He has been timed once or twice out of curiosity and the reported results are so good that you hesitate to give them without corroboration.

Talent In the Hinterlands

There may be very little to this when it is investigated, but on the other hand he may be a second Longboat. Years ago the writer also received a report of a field day held at an obscure post in the North West Territories. It was sent in by a Hudson's Bay man who had been quite a track and field man himself. He assured us that the times made by Indians and halfbreeds were as exact as could be caught on two ordinary watches—there being no stop-watch within many hundred miles of the post. There were at least three young Indians that gave every indication of being able to equal and maybe break existing Canadian marks with a little coaching. There was another buck who covered distances in the broad jump and hop, step and jump that were good enough to have won him a place on the 1932 Canadian Olympic squad.

In addition, practically every small town has one or more natural born athletes. Lack of coaching and competition prevents them from ever getting anywhere. In fact, many of them would be greatly surprised to know they had real possibilities.

However even a perfect scouting system will not get us very far unless some sort of provision is made for training and developing the men discovered. It would appear good business to cut down the size of Canada's Olympic team in future to men and women who have a real chance of winning and to spend the money thus saved in subsidizing a few capable coaches and Olympic clubs at strategic points where "discoveries" could be sent. That is the way Germany and Japan work and is the only way Canada is ever going to improve her Olympic standing. The foregoing dope on Indians in the hinterland should not be taken as a suggestion that we turn out a redskin brigade for the Olympics. It is given merely to show possibilities.

To Lead Attack On Varsity Bears

Edmonton will get its first taste of competitive football Saturday at the Varsity grid when the Hi-Grads and University of Alberta Polar Bears tangle in the first scheduled fixture for Edmonton of the Alberta Football Union. This will be the first official game of the Bears, and they are as yet an unknown power. Hi-Grads gave notice of their strength last Saturday by trouncing Calgary Bronks' "B" team 14-5. Shown above are some of the stalwarts who are expected to spell double trouble for the students Saturday. They are, from left to right, top row: Ernie Stevens, quarterback; Paul Brockie, middle wing; Martin Graham, half; Archie Ritchie, snap; bottom row: Roy Gerlitz, half; Ted Heath, flying wing; Bert Tonal, inside wing; Harold Sutton, half.

Terrymen Put End To Great Stretch Drive By 2-1 Win

Hal Schumacher Clinches Flag In Ten Inning Pitching Thriller Beating Boston Bees By 2-1 Score

BOSTON, Sept. 25.—New York Giants climaxed their success Thursday by clinching the National league pennant.

Topping off an astonishing drive they nosed out Boston Bees 2-1 in a 10-inning pitching thriller in the first game of a doubleheader to sew up the flag. They lost the second 1-0.

Their victory made the first "subway series" since 1923 a certainty with New York Yankees as the American league representatives.

"Prince Hal" Schumacher, question mark of the Giants' pitching staff, accomplished Thursday's with almost single-handed, but a costly error by Bill Urbanski was a big help. Urbanski juggled Travis Jackson's grounder in the tenth and then threw wide past first, enabling the veteran third-backer to reach second. Schumacher brought him home with a single.

LET SECOND GO

In the second game, Terry replaced most of his regulars wielding men and the Bees won behind Bill Weir's six-hit pitching.

The first-game victory was the Giants' 91st against 48 losses in the spectacular drive that carried them from second division to the championship between July 15 and Thursday.

Collapsing after fighting for the lead early in the season, Bill Terry's troupe sank out of first division and seemed through for the season.

THEN HUBBELL STARTED

Then Carl Hubbell, the year's greatest pitcher, started hitting his stride and the entire outfield, headed Mel Ott, developed a batting punch as dangerous as any other club in the big leagues.

With Hubbell leading the way, winning 16 straight pitching victories, the Giants reached first place at the height of a 12-game winning streak on Aug. 25 and stayed out in front.

The pennant triumph is the second accomplished by the Giants since Terry took over the management from John McGraw. In 1933 they took the title and went on to defeat Washington in the world's series.

Helping the Giants along in their pennant winning march was the pitching collapse of their most feared rivals, St. Louis Cardinals, and the hitting slump of the 1935 champion Chicago Cubs.

ADAMS MEETS BURLY ANGELO HERE TONIGHT

Main Event of Wrestle Card at Memorial—Root Referees

The wrestling populace of Edmonton will be looking forward with eagerness to the main event on Mike Cutcher's card at the Memorial Hall tonight, as Martinolo Angelo is matched with Hugh "Whakers" Adams, a result of his victory over Mickey McGuire here last Friday.

Since his first appearance here two shows ago, the Italian maiman has sent tongues a-waggin' furiously among the wrestling gentry. He has brought fire and new entertainment to local cards. His bout with Adams should provide some thrilling moments of rousing wrestling.

In the semi-windup enlargement, Johnny Demchuk, a product of Edmonton, and one whose rise has been meteoric in American pro ranks meets the genial Jack Brentano, a Canadian grappler who left an indelible mark in his previous performances to wit his epic battles with Klem Kusek. This bout should vie with the first main event for fast action.

Along with these two excellent attractions comes a preliminary out of the ordinary. Mickey McGuire, vividly remembered for his bouts with Angelo, meets Art Belcher. The latter is clever and specializes in the use of the ropes to trick his opponents.

Topping this excellent lineup will be the presence of Bill Root in the ring as referee for the main event.

ORILLIA WINS BOX LACROSSE TITLE IN EAST

Have 12-4 Triumph Over Montreal Canadiens in Fighting Tilt

MONTREAL, Sept. 25—Orillia Terriers, playing in defence of their Canadian box lacrosse championship, last night won the Eastern Canada title with a 12-4 win over Montreal Canadiens in a fiercely-punctured match before 5,000 fans.

Victory, well assured before a free-for-all scrap broke out in the dying minutes of the game, gave the smooth Terriers machine two straight wins against Montreal in the best two-of-three series and obviated the necessity of a third game Saturday.

Terriers now meet the Western champion representative in the Hamilton-Tuxedo two-game total-goals series starting next week.

SECOND STRAIGHT

In their first meeting with the Canadien outfit, Orillia won 10-4 at Monday night but total superiority was much greater on the Frenchmen's home floor, where in the first period did the Canadiens show signs of forcing a total game. The first frame ended 2-1 for the Easterners and was a bruising episode of lusty checking.

From that time on it was Orillia's game in spite of Pete Jolkins, towering Montrealer who threatened at all times to be a constant provocative of goals.

The Terriers came back fast in the second period and smashed home six goals. In return the Canadiens banged home only one. Once on top, the Terriers were never headed.

SLIGHTLY SLOW

In the third and fourth frames Montreal failed to add to its total. Play at times was on the slow side, but Orillia got together for attacks that produced two more goals in the third period through Joe Chevrey and Ernie Bottino.

In the fourth frame Bill Curran and Dick Walsh boosted the Terriers' score. Walsh slamming home two. One of them was the outstanding play of the night. He started at his own end of the rink and raced past Montreal territory, leaving the Canadiens flat-footed behind him. He had nobody but Archambault on the net to beat and did it easily.

The Terriers defence proved a tough proposition for the French-men. They never stopped trying, but when defence showed any signs of weakening and this was seldom the front line took up the cudgel and engaged in a general foray that left the Montrealers baffled.

LED TERRIERS

Bill Curgan, the hustling Orillia forward, led the Terriers in scoring but it was difficult to class any one player ahead of his teammates. A veteran of last year's Mann cup battles, Bill beat Archambault four times with Dick Walsh next with three counters. Joe Chevrey, Ernie Botting, A. Macmahon and Ernie Curran and "Shipwreck" Kelly each scored once.

Blanton's goal came through Glen Carmichael Blanchard with two Mel Morris and Jolkus.

Players rolled about in mud-rink on the wet two minutes of the game after Blanchard and Cheevers tangled along the boards. Referee King Brady of Montreal attempted to halt the fray but Blanchard struggled away.

The fight started all over again. Jolkus joined in and soon there were scraps all over the rink. Even a few spectators came in for a couple of lusty pokes in the jaw. Prominent in the fray was Mc-Mahon who, along with Jolkus, Cheevers and Blanchard drew a 20-minute penalty for the punch tossing.

Derby County Has Lead English Soccer League

Defeat to Wolverhampton Gives Derby Good Lead For Saturday

LONDON, Sept. 25.—Defeating Wolverhampton Wanderers 3-1 Wednesday, Derby County pulled into a clear lead in the English football league with 10 points, one more than Portsmouth and Stoke City.

Since the opening of the season on August 29, leadership of the first division has been hotly contested by several teams and it is not unlikely that the county will be decided after Saturday's round of games is completed.

Derby is called upon to play Arsenal, in London and although the Gunners have not struck last form they are expected to be hard to beat on their own ground at Highbury. Portsmouth plays at West Bromwich and Stoke City entertains Aston Villa. City will put up a great battle for maximum points against the Wednesday at Sheffield.

INJURIES CONCERN

Injuries are causing concern to many league clubs and are most likely to smash up their best line-ups for Saturday's twelve Brentford, Brooklyn's relegated opponents, were unable to summon more than 4-1, Bolton Wanderers, who play the Rangers at Ibrox Park next week, rearranged their front line, Eversfield and Westwood will be the two newcomers with Rimmer moving to inside left.

Fulham and Huddersfield, tied with Chelsea and Middlesbrough in second place in the standings, provide one of the feature matches of the day at Liverpool and a division of the points may result. Chelsea entertains Manchester City at Maine Road and Middlesbrough seat home to Charlton Athletic, the babes of the division.

LIKELY WINNERS

Burry, leader in the second division along with Blackpool, is likely to overcome Norwich City. The leaders also should make short work of the last-place Bradford team. For their game against Barnsley, Tottenham Hotspurs are making several changes. Douglas Hunt will lead the team for the first time this season and Morrison will line up at inside right with Alexander on the wing. Brown and Edrich form the new left wing.

In the southern section of the third division Cardiff City and Luton Town share top place. Cardiff should have little difficulty against Exeter City but Luton has tough opposition in Reading. Chesterfield, section pace-setter is up against a strong side in Carlisle United. The United has shown great improvement and won its last two games.

COAST FOOTBALL OPENS SATURDAY

WINNIPEG, Sept. 25—Western Canadians will see a full program of football Saturday as the Vancouver Big Four league swings into action to complete the group of western circuits in the autumn campaign.

Topping the heavy bill is the final meeting of Regina Roughriders and Calgary Bronks in the Southern Alberta city. The game will mark the final meeting of the two teams in the western conference and Regina, tied with the Canadian championship Winnipegs at the top of the heap, is favored to win. Roughriders beat Brones 18-3 in Regina a week ago.

Another game of unusual grid interest will be the affiliation in Winnipeg between the Winnipegs and North Dakota State, alma mater of Fritz Hanson. Bud Marquardt and Herb Pessetel stars of the Peg brigade. Playing under American rules the Pegs will be hard pressed to turn back the strong Dakotan, who meet Northwestern of the Big Ten conference two weeks hence.

FOUR ARE LEFT PACIFIC TENNIS

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25—The men's singles of the Pacific South-West lawn tennis championships dwindled to four contenders Thursday as Donald Budge, and Jack Tidball went into semi-finals.

Budge displayed his usual superior game in eliminating Bobby Underwood, Stanford University, 6-1, 6-0.

Tidball, 1933 intercollegiate champion, proved too much for John Van Ryn, East Orange, N.J. The Californian won, 6-4, 6-2.

Budge and Tidball will meet today for the right to go into the finals Sunday and Fred Perry of England and Frances X. Shields, the other semi-finalists will battle it out Saturday.

NORM ALLISH TRAINS HARD CHILLY RIVER

Takes Daily Plunge in Saskatchewan; Plan To Raise Funds

Swimming in the Saskatchewan river when the temperature of the water is hovering around 46 degrees may not be the average person's idea of a good time, but it is the kind of training that makes champions, and since Norman Allish of the South Side Swimming club is determined to reach the top of the heap, he takes his daily plunge in the frigid river.

Training under the watchful eye of Jimmy Crockett at the South Side pool until the pool closed, Norman continued his workouts in the river near the high level bridge, and with the exception of two days when the frosty air made the job just a little bit too stiff, he has been in daily, and is still hard at it.

The event for which he is training so diligently is the western Canada Wrigley swim, a one-mile race to be held at the Northern Pacific International swimming meet at the Crystal pool in Vancouver on November 28. Already Norman has gone well in local swim contests, and at the annual Wrigley competition at Sylvan Lake.

The South Side Swimming club is striving to finance part of the trip to the coast, and are scanning the horizon for someone who will enable Norman to spend a week or so at the coast prior to the race, during which time he will be able to get some training in the Vancouver pool.

Boxing Card Set For Stony Plain

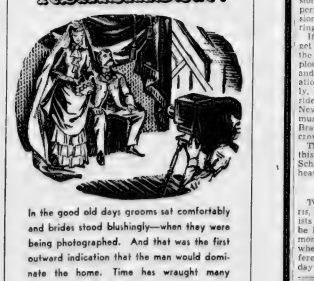

STONY PLAIN, Sept. 25.—Kelly's Gym will be the scene of some sparkling boxing following the arrangements for several bouts here on Sept. 26, Rosenthal boxing club is sponsoring the bouts.

Eddie McSporran is slated to meet Don Chrisman in a 10-round bout for boxing supremacy. The match is approved of by the Edmonton Boxing and Wrestling commission and will be refereed and judged by that body's officials. It is slated to be provincial title bout.

A six-round semi-final will be fought between Ed. Stephens of Edmonton and Walter Bredo of Stony Plain.

Two good preliminaries of four rounds each have also been arranged.

Tickets are selling rapidly, much interest is being shown in the match, and we expect a record crowd.

Three Games Start High School Junior Football Schedule

Scona, Separate and Garneau All Chalk Up Decisive Shut-Out Victories—Tech, Westmount, Vic On Low Ends

Shut-outs were in style yesterday as the High School Junior Football league got underway on three local school grids, with six teams seeing action.

The Scona boys opened their season impressively with a 7-0 victory over Technical. The Separate school squad gave notice of championship calibre by trouncing Westmount 11-0 on the latters' stamping grounds. Garneau chalked up the most decisive triumph of the day by swamping the Victoria team under an 18-0 count.

FIELD SOGGY

When Strathcona met Technical on the Victoria field, there was a messy time for a while after the rain softened the field enough to make it a little sticky. And the Scona lads had their brand new uniforms on too. Action wasn't delayed however, for after a minute's play, "Sandy" Milligan tucked the ball under his arm to make an end run for the only touch of the game.

The scoring in the first finished with a deadline kick. From then to the middle of the third, the teams fought for possession, when Scona played another dead line play and brought the total up to seven and there it stood until the end of the game.

The Separate-Westmount game, played at Westmount, found Jack Heffernan and C. O'Connor the top-notchers for Separate when they broke through for a touch each. Jack managed his in the second quarter, O'Connor getting his in the last. George Esper played a rouge in the last to carry his alma mater's total to eleven.

HEAVY SCORING

The first quarter of the Garneau clash with Victoria yielded the most scoring in the game played at the South Side Athletic Park. After seven minutes play, Archie Harris made his way from the Victoria twenty yard line for a touch. Norman McCallum did the same four minutes later. In the third quarter, Garneau made a kick to the dead line and a rouge. The last quarter netted another touch by Arnold Harris when he made a thirty yard sprint for the last count of the game.

Out of the six touches made in yesterday's games, there were six conversion completed. Fans had the pleasure of witnessing a very good brand of football, even better than that displayed in the senior game held Wednesday.

BID $100,000 FOR BRADDOCK TO BOX LOUIS

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Jimmy Braddock, the lone inactive champion of the heavyweights, has been offered $100,000 to swap punches with the dark cloud that hangs over his throne—Joe Louis.

The projected bout would be a no-decision affair at 10 rounds, according to Dr. Joseph F. Carr, czar for the Philadelphia promoting firm of Taylor and Gunnis. Moran made known at Philadelphia last night that Herman Taylor left that city for New York to confer with Braddock's manager, Joe Gould.

HOLDS 42,000

The spacious Atlantic City convention hall, capable of seating a fight crowd of 42,000, is the proposed site for the melee and Feb. 25, while the United States will be observing George Washington's birthday, the proposed date.

According to Dalton, Julian Black and John Rosborough, Louis' managers, have agreed to take a percentage of the gate. He declined to specify the percentage.

Such a scrap, seemingly certain to draw a capacity house anywhere, would not interfere with the standing order that Max Schmeling, recent surprise conqueror of Louis, is to be given the first crack at Braddock's dusty crown.

GAVE PERMISSION

The New York boxing commission recently gave the champion permission to engage in no-decision bouts. He pleaded he was ring rusty and craving action.

If King Jim and jarring Joey do get to trading punches and one of the brown boy's bombs should explode on his majesty's square chin and put him away, an unusual situation would be created. Seemingly, most of the would would consider Louis the champion but in New York state—where a title bout must be at 15 rounds, anyway—Braddock would legally retain his crown.

ARGONNE ACE HURT

TORONTO, Sept. 25.—Teddy Morris, one of Canada's veteran Rugbyists and famous line-splunger, will be lost to Argonaut, for at least a month, it was learned here today when X-rays showed he had suffered a broken hand in Wednesday night's practice scrimmage.

SCHOOL FIELD DAY SUCCESS AT WESTMOUNT

Despite rather threatening weather, a successful track and field meet was held at Westmount school Thursday, September 24. It was a meeting between intermediate and elementary contestants.

The meet was run off with exact precision and events alternated so that competitors could attend track events, high jumps, broad jumps and ball throws.

GOLFING RECORD WITHIN GRASP MRS. A. DARLING

Canadian Open Golf Champ Reaches Last Lap Of Title Quest

Enters Finals with Mrs. F. J. Mulqueen of Toronto to Come Within Ada Mackenzie's Record of Winning Both Crowns

By SYDNEY GRUSON

POINTE CLAIRE, Que., Sept. 25.—All that was in the way last night of Mrs. A. B. Darling gaining the Canadian open and close golf championships—a feat accomplished only twice before—was Mrs. F. J. Mulqueen of Toronto, a golfing veteran who knows all the shots.

Montreal's winner of the open last Saturday and Mrs. Mulqueen fought against the elements over Beaconsfield Club's 6,000-yard layout yesterday to register a 4 and 3 and 3 and 1 victories, respectively, over Toronto's Ada Mackenzie and Mrs. H. W. Soper of Montreal.

OVER-PAR DISPLAY

Mrs. Mulqueen continued St. Mackenzie—the women using holes crowns in 1925 and 1932 with a steady, over-par display. She came through on the home nine, which she reached four up after was among the lead dropped at the 12th.

The Ontario champion, winner of the closest in 1924 was one over par for a nine that included a birdie-two on the 203-yard eighth, while Miss Mackenzie, who won two of the three of the incoming holes, took 41 to the turn.

After halving the 10th and 14th, Miss Mackenzie cracked on the 15th. There she missed a two-foot putt. On the 16th she missed her second and third shots and on the short 17th she missed the green with her drive while Mrs. Mulqueen drove accurately for wins on 271 threes.

WAS GOING HOME

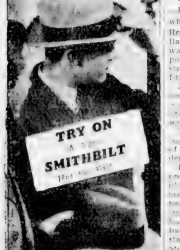

It was not until after the turn that Mrs. Darling eliminated Mrs. Soper. Outplaying the open champion, Mrs. Soper hit the turn one up taken with a par three on the troublesome fourth.

But from the 10th to Mrs. Darling showed all the accuracy of the long-putting game. She won the 10th, halved the 11th and then cut out the next four holes with even pars as Mrs. Soper took an average of one stroke more than par on each.

An all-Montreal final for the championship consolation was assured when Agnes Mountifield of Edmonton lost 3 and 4 to Dorothy Kirsch and Verna Hale, Dorothy of Yamouth, 5-4, in the other semi-final to Mollie Hankin, 2 and 1.

WINS SENIOR GOLF

SEIGNIORY CLUB, Que., Sept. 25—Mrs. Sidney Jones of Toronto, with a 36-hole total of 204, won the Canadian Women's Senior Golf Association championship. Mrs. Garth Thomson of Montreal was second with 214.

GAS FOR MINE SHAFTS BOUGHT CHEMIST AVERS

Senate Committee Hears How "Bootleg" Miners Were Treated

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25—A Senate committee was told yesterday Pennsylvania anthracite operators, facing a "complete breakdown of government" in that state, had purchased quantities of tear gas to drive what was described as "bootleg miners" out of the fields.

Purchase of $17,000 worth of the sickening gas was testified to by A. S. Allen, vice-president of the Lake Erie Chemical Company, who said it was planned to drop 7,500 tubes of the vapor into the mine shafts at night.

SECRET GAS SALES

Allen revealed other secret sales of gas to many industrial companies in all regions of the United States in his testimony before a committee investigating strike-breaking, labor espionage and other interferences with the rights of workers.

THINK IMPERIALLY, LAND SETTLEMENT ENVOY IMPLORES

SASKATOON, Sept. 25.—Concrete requests to the Dominion government to negotiate for a resumption of immigration to Canada issued from the final session of the Saskatchewan immigration and settlement convention last evening.

The session carried unanimously a resolution requesting the Saskatchewan government to notify the Federal government that Saskatchewan was ready to receive 5,000 British immigrant families, to be settled under the Hornby plan during the next five years, starting early in 1937.

SASKATOON, Sept. 25—High praise for the work of Brigadier-General M. L. Hodson, when he described as a "prophet in the distribution of the British race, not only in Canada, but through the Empire," was heard from Sir Patrick Hannon, M.P., in an address before the Saskatoon Canadian Club here yesterday.

Sir Patrick, eminent British industrialist, quashed statements made by various speakers who, in general discussion at sessions of the Saskatchewan immigration and settlement convention, had opposed any plan of immediate immigration.

At the same time, the speaker appealed for native co-operation with the British Empire.

The speaker explained that during his trip through northern Saskatchewan, he and Mr. R. S. Dalgliesh had had a free hand in visiting farms. They had not contacted either of the railways in Canada with a view to a supervised tour of Saskatchewan.

REPORT IN ENGLAND

"My colleague and I will report in England conditions as we have found them here, on their own merits," Sir Patrick stressed.

The statesman believed the keynote of the present immigration and settlement convention had been struck by the Hon. George Spence, minister of public works for Saskatchewan.

"He was the most concise, touching and comprehensive study of the problems of the Empire I have heard," he stated.

"Think imperially," was the advice of the speaker, who explained that in England this year, thousands of men in public and private life would attempt to educate the people of England to do that.

Wife Kissed Too Often At Night Is Anxious To Quit

British United Press

LONDON, Sept. 25.—Because she objected to the way he kissed her and kept her awake at night, a 35-year-old woman sought a separation order against the Lord Mayor husband at the London South-Western Matrimonial Court on the grounds of persistent cruelty.

The couple, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Easton, had been married for 26 years and had a full grown family.

"What was the nature of the cruelty?" asked Magistrate Mullins.

"I think," replied Mrs. Easton, "that when I go to bed at night I am entitled to some rest. He wakes me up and keeps me awake. He wants to kiss me and behave in a way which I don't think is right."

[illegible] said Mr. [illegible] found her unreasonable to get sufficient [illegible] evidence of [illegible] husband and wife in private to enable him to make an order. Reuben could be heard on appeal, and adjourned the case to separate for a week and hear it again.

Midget Colony Organizes For Own Interests

British United Press

BUDAPEST, Sept. 25.—The founding of a midget colony in Hungary and the uniting of the world's midgets to protect their interests are the plans of Herr Julius Gont, who is barely 46 inches high himself.

Gont has become a business man instead of exploiting his lack of inches as a circus freak, and at 45 he is owner of a prosperous department store in Budapest. He supplies almost all the worlds midget troupes with their stage equipment, clothes and miniature furniture.

He estimates there are 50,000 midgets in the world, and he is calling upon them to send celebrities to a conference to discuss the founding of the new Liliput.

MANITOBA TO BE EDUCATED SAYS POOLE

Social Credit M.P. Pays Warm Tribute to Mr. Aberhart

Campaign of education of Manitoba residents along Social Credit lines will be carried out, declared Eric Poole, Social Credit member of parliament for Red Deer, on his arrival here after taking part in the recent Manitoba election.

Asked regarding the attitude of Social Credit members of the Bracken government, Mr. Poole said that members of the Social Credit party were prepared to support any progressive legislation, regardless of its origin.

AGAINST ELECTION

"We of the Social Credit party did not want another election so soon after the people had expressed themselves at the polls and especially as it would have involved an expense to the public treasury of $150,000. Therefore, we thought we should co-operate with Premier Bracken.

"In the meantime we will go ahead with our educational campaign in Manitoba, through the radio and speaking engagements.

"Any agreement made with Premier Bracken was made by the five Social Credit members in Manitoba. I have been working only in the interests of the movement as a whole.

Asked if the movement was making progress in Manitoba, Mr. Poole declared that "definite progress" was being made.

"People everywhere realize that the old financial system is breaking down," he said.

Tribute was paid by Mr. Poole to Premier Aberhart for his crusade for a new economic era.

"Premier Aberhart has brought down more legislation of a far-reaching nature than has ever been brought down before."

ECONOMIC CREDIT

Mr. Poole declared that in some sections the Social Credit aims and principles were misinterpreted.

Speaking of economic conditions generally, Mr. Poole said that consumption and not production was the main problem facing the world today. Social Credit's main function was to place increased purchasing power in the hands of the people. This could be done by two ways, either borrowing from the banks and increasing the public debt, or by more extensive, advantageous use of provincial credit which was the way to be preferred.

They Got A Real Bag

Geese are where you find 'em, like gold, and Henry Harder, 1[illegible]28 68 street, and A. E. Colbert, 11260-64 street, employees of the Swift Canadian Company in Edmonton, are evidently good goose prospectors. At any rate they went out to Beaver Lake on Tuesday night and Wednesday morning, and here's the result. 23 honkers and 15 mallards, and that's a bag for any shooters. Harden and Colbert are shown in the picture flanked by the two farmers over whose fields they shot. And the farmers' names? That's a secret, they say. They don't want too many Edmonton nimrods to get wise to their location.

Chance Blow With Pick At M'Leod Creates Mile Lake

MACLEOD, Alta., Sept. 25—S. J. Pinder's combined stock-watering and irrigation plan brought startling results. Helped by a chance blow of a pick, it created a lake a mile long and an eighth of a mile wide.

While digging the ditch Pinder's pick tapped an artesian water supply. The water spouted out and he was driven from the ditch. Today the water was still flowing at a rate estimated at more than 2,000,000 gallons daily.

Pinder operates a dairy farm two miles west of here. On the west side of his land he had a number of shallow wells, ranging from five to 10 feet in depth. On the east side there was a dry old slough bed. Pinder's plan was to dig a ditch from the nearest well, fill the slough and thus cut down the cost of watering his herd.

The lake at one end was about three feet deep.

Earth's Inhabitants Shown Slowly Becoming Giants

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Signs the earth's inhabitants may be growing into a race of giants are noted in a world-wide study of heights and weights of young people.

Every 12½ years for the last 80 years almost 4-10ths inch has been added to the height of the average college student, the Journal of the American Medical Association reports.

In the United States, the Journal continued, children of today entering colleges and universities seem to average two inches taller and weigh some seven pounds more than did their parents and grandparents.

To support its conclusions, the editorial recited these figures: In Germany, boys entering school between six and 6½ years of age in 1924 were 108.7 centimetres tall. A similar crop of children in 1932 was 114.9 centimeters tall.

In Holland, recruits were 6.67 centimeters taller in 1921-25 than in 1883-87.

DISABILITIES OF RAILROADS TOLD TO BOARD

C.N.R. Official Says Companies Only Ask Fair Field

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I., Sept. 25. The gross freight receipts of the Canadian Railways have been reduced thirty cent million dollars per annum by competition of trucks operating on the highways, and the damage to the net position of the railways is estimated roughly at four million dollars per year.

These figures were placed before the Railway Board of Trade at its annual meeting here in an address by S. W. Fairweather, director of the bureau of economics, Canadian National Railways.

ASK FAIR FIELD

"The railways are quite capable of adjusting themselves to the new conditions," continued Mr. Fairweather, "if there is a fair field and no favor. No agency, which on the average can transport freight at a cost of less than one cent per ton per mile need have great fear of a competitive agency whose average cost for transportation per ton per mile is nearly five cents. In the adjustment to changed conditions, however, our ideas regarding railways and their regulation will need substantial modification.

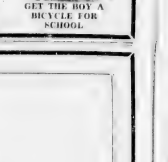

IN PUBLIC INTEREST

The railways, he said, were established in the public interest, both as to rates and services, and had to provide for the equalization of rates to markets over wide areas, the development of new territories, the encouragement of base industries by freight rates lower than commercially justifiable, and the maintenance of regular services, even in cases where there was no profit in doing so.

Celanese Price Hit In Textile Probe

MONTREAL, Sept. 25.—Weaving mills in Canada were forced to "practically abandon" use of acetate yarn in manufacture of fine textiles because of the "prohibitive price" established for the material by Canadian Celanese Company, Philip B. Hart, an importer, charged today before the Turgeon textile inquiry.

Churchill Hotly Denounces Nazis In Paris Speech

PARIS, Sept. 25.—Europe needs a "tremendous organization of nations ready to fall upon an aggressor and beat the pride out of him so that no one would dare to break the peace," Winston Churchill, British member of parliament told a gathering at the Theatre des Ambassadeurs Thursday.

Denouncing Fascism, Churchill called on Britain and France to cement their friendship in defence of the democratic heritage. They are far better prepared to defend it than is generally supposed, he said, but must develop their aviation strength.

FINEST IN WORLD

"The British fleet," he added, "is far stronger in relation to any fleet or combination of fleets in Europe than it was in 1914, and by arrangements now made by His Majesty's government, its preponderance is being certainly and fully maintained for the future."

Churchill's speech was devoted to an attack on "the morbid regimentation of the totalitarian state" and a defence of the democratic form of government. Edouard Herriot, president of the French Chamber of Deputies, and Paul Reynaud, rightist deputy, were among those who attended.

WON'T BE QUENCHED

"The strength and splendor of the French republic and the British Empire will not easily be trampled down, nor will the lights which they offer to mankind be quenched in barbaric gloom," he declared.

There are three kinds of nations at present in Europe, he said: Bolshevik, Nazi, and "self-governing ones like England and France," which are threatened by the other two.

Democratic countries must give special attention to their strength in the air, he said.

"But at any rate it would be a great mistake to suppose that are either of us defenceless as regards this new arm at the present time," he added.

R.A.F. PLANES COMPLETE TASK

With the search for Flight Lieut. Sheldon Coleman and Leading Aircraftsman Joe Fortey and the summer's photographic survey concluded, four Royal Canadian Air Force planes flew into Fort McMurray Thursday afternoon from their base at Fort Fitzgerald, according to advices from there.

Leading the flight was Flight Lt. Larry Wray, who had charge of the survey work and the search operations and other pilots were Flying Officer Rutledge, Flight Sergt. A. J. Horner and Sergt. J. McNee. Aircraftsmen included Corpl. J. Walker, Leading Aircraftsman J. Johnson and Corpl. McCauley.

One plane was left at Fort Fitzgerald with a damaged engine and a new motor will be taken north from Edmonton on Saturday. In charge of the plane which was left behind is Sergt. W. F. Tourgis, with Leading Aircraftsman R. Inglis. Eric Fry, surveyor, who prepared maps for the search, is also at Fitzgerald.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES AND INSIDE STUFF ON THE MOVIE COLONY

By PAUL HARRISON

AWAY back in 1933 M-G-M bought the screen rights to the topical revue-hit, "As Thousands Cheer." The studio is just now getting around to thinking about making the picture—a picture, anyway. All the skits in the show are hopelessly out of date now, but at least there's a title.

Casting Note: Frank Morgan and Billie Burke likely will be teamed as a middle-aged comedy couple. Charles Butterworth, one of the top-ranking funnymen, finally is to be starred, but his first one, "Morning, Noon, and Night," will be Pagliacci stuff.

R. E. ANSLEY BACKS S.C. LEGISLATION

Member for Leduc Discusses Debt Acts Before Local Lions Club

"If a statute of the land is unjust to the individuals of the state, and some technical reason prevents the changing of the Act, one cannot be criticized for not following the exact letter of the clause in the Act which is unjust," said R. E. Ansley, Social Credit member in the legislature for Leduc, when addressing a luncheon meeting of the Lions Club Thursday in the King Edward hotel.

"If it should happen," he added, "that decisions are being handed down that are contrary to the debt settlement act, it may be necessary to pass additional legislation at the next session to guarantee the carrying out of the intentions of the act. We are going to take action. We are going to change things. We are convinced that the opinions of the majority, and not the wishes of a handful of people, should determine governmental policies."

In discussing the amendments to the Adjudicature Act passed at the recent session, the speaker reminded his audience that the attorney-general was empowered to grant any individual the right to issue an injunction if, in the opinion of the executive council, such procedure would be detrimental to the welfare of the majority of the people in the province.

The social crediter, in discussing the debt legislation passed by the government, asserted that "the old legislation of mere postponement of debts was inadequate and instrumental in destroying the confidence between debtor and creditor. Under the new legislation, where same is physically possible the creditor can be assured of collecting every dollar of his principal. The merchants and professional men supplying the necessities of life in the way of goods and services to debtors in past years will now receive equal treatment to that of the mortgage companies and other outside financial interests."

R. Sredden, president of the club, presided.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 25.—Dr. Stanley W. Fox of Dauphin, leader of the five Social Credit members elected in the Manitoba legislature has been elected honorary president of the Manitoba Social Credit League, it was announced today.

The four other successful Social Credit candidates in the July 27 provincial election were made honorary vice presidents. A convention will be held October 19, it was announced.

FREE PRESS SAVED U.S. FROM TYRANTS SAYS M'CORMICK

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The subject of a free press, from the earliest days of royal license in England through the code-making era of NRA in the United States, is reviewed in a book, "The Freedom of the Press," published today. It is by Col. Robert McCormick, chairman of the committee of the Freedom of the Press of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association.

"Let it be plain to the uninitiated," Colonel McCormick writes, "that newspapers have no rights, and claim no rights, not guaranteed to all citizens; that the freedom of the press is not a special privilege of the newspapers, but a right of all citizens."

"In our own generation," adds the Chicago publisher, "liberty of utterance has been attacked, and in its defence editors have been put in jeopardy of ruin, imprisonment and assassination."

Construing some of the activities of the United States senate lobby committee last winter as an effort to intimidate certain newspapers, the publisher says:

"The committee and its agents took forcible possession of the offices and houses of citizens, rifled their personal belongings, read their private correspondence, stole their telegrams, and, it is charged, opened their mail in the post office and tapped their telephone wires. The victims were haled to Washington and subjected to disgusting abuse by the Senators, all the while standing in fear of assault by the plug-uglies paid from the committee's secret fund."

Reviewing insistence of the publishers upon inserting into their code a clause specifically refusing to waive constitutional guarantees of freedom of the press, he says:

"If the press had surrendered its freedom it could not have exposed these tyrannies (of NRA) and rescued their victims."

Agoraphobia Case Fully Recovered

BROAD CHANNEL, N.Y., Sept. 25.—John Hewins Kern, secretary of the Long Island Poet's Association and former magazine editor, announced today he had been cured of agoraphobia, a morbid dread of open spaces that has kept him within 200 feet of his little cottage here for more than six years.

"People who haven't had agoraphobia," he said during a daring walk fully a mile from his home, "will never know what a lovely world this is."

Badges Of Old Foes Of U.S. Discovered

FORT ERIE, Ont., Sept. 25.—John Thomas, Niagara fisherman, today found on a bluff overlooking the river, a badge worn by members of Butler's Rangers, a gang of freebooters who fought under the British flag during the American revolution between 1777 and 1785. The Rangers preyed on New York state and Pennsylvania, even penetrating into the middle states.

NEW KITCHEN CREATES STIR MODEL HOUSE

Bulletin's Home of Tomorrow Elicits Much Favorable Comment

Invitation to breakfast, luncheon or supper, is the promise held by the kitchen in the Bulletin Model Home. With its arrangement of range, monel metal sink and cupboards, together with the well-stocked refrigerator and the latest electrical devices, including egg whippers, orange squeezers, electrical coffee pot, and shining cream and red culinary equipment it seems to invite the casual visitor to set to work preparing a meal.

The drudgery [illegible] with the preparation of meals [illegible] eliminated in this [illegible] equipped kitchen [illegible] transformed instead to a [illegible] pastime.

Enthusiastic comments of feminine and even masculine visitors to the home, demonstrate the culinary inspiration which the kitchen radiates, as one after another of its improvement features are demonstrated by the guides which are in constant attendance at the home. Designed to save energy is the treadle opening door of the electric refrigerator, which, on opening, automatically lights up to show clearly all the contents of the frigidaire.

Equally an improvement over old time methods is the fan in the ceiling which removes odors and warm air from the room and leaves not a trace, no matter what gustatorial delight may be stewing on the electric range.

"Why, the kitchen alone is worth a visit to the home," said one enthusiastic commentator, as she marvelled at its equipment while inspecting the house for the first time Thursday.

Public Apathy To Empire Need Causes Alarm

Organization Representing 60,000 Returned Men Assemble in Special Meeting At Toronto

TORONTO, Sept. 25.—The Canadian Corps Association, at a special meeting last night, asked the Dominion government to declare its policy with reference to Canadian defence and Empire responsibility. The association, representing 125 former Canadian units and some 60,000 veterans, urged an "awakening" of the people, by education, to an understanding of "the present serious situation.

It went on record as supporting an "adequate defence policy" and as underlining, as a "nucleus of trained men" to defend "this country from the dangers which threaten our national and empire existence."

"We view with alarm," said the resolution on defence policy, "the apathy of the people of Canada to the world situation today.

"We deplore the fact that our country still leans for protection upon the British navy and the Monroe doctrine to maintain the honor of a people who claim to be a responsible nation. We deprecate the growth in Canada of that type of pacifism which has stifled the proper understanding of the proper emergency."

"It is not a question of immediate danger of being attacked," said Lt.-Col. A. G. Poupore, president of the association.

"Our only defence at present is the British empire. It is all very well to talk about help that might be given by the United States and the Monroe doctrine and the recent speech of President Roosevelt, but we happen to be members of the British empire."

Captain W. W. Parry, K.C., proposing the defence resolution, asked the meeting if any man who served in France wanted to go to war. He received no call for service.

"Is there any man here who is not prepared to shoulder a rifle, if need be, and defend the empire and democracy and what is sacred to all of us?" he asked.

"No," came the reply.

THEOLOGY MAY BE SUSPENDED IN ST. STEPHEN'S

Church Council Considers Ordination of Women Pastors

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 — The seventh general council of the United Church referred to its business committee the question of ordination of women yesterday. The committee will report to the council subsequently.

The matter was subject to a remit to Presbyteries of the church. As a result it was showed out of the 114 presbyteries, 80 were in favor of opening the ministry to women while 26 were against. The remaining eight did not report.

MAY DROP COURSE

Suggestion was made to the council yesterday that Manitoba College, Winnipeg, as well as St. Stephen's at Edmonton should "forthe time being" suspend teaching of the theological course.

The principal, as contained in the report of the commission on theological colleges, presented by Rev. F. S. Bourne, Toronto. The report recommended these two colleges "restrict their teaching to such religious knowledge as subjects are options in the arts courses of the universities to which they are affiliated, or are requested by study groups of university students or others in the vicinity, or others advantageously reached by extension courses."

Largest item among disbursements was home mission, $819,912, while pensions at $713,481 came next. Foreign missions took $562,674.

Gleaned From The News

A young Edmonton woman of taking ways visited the Irish Linen store, 10438 Jasper avenue at 3:30 p.m. Thursday and after she departed $2.75 worth of rich lace was reported missing. Store clerks gave police a good description of the young woman.

TOWERS TALKS ON PURPOSE OF CENTRAL BANK

Not Much Different Than Policy of Money Reformers

WINNIPEG, Sept. 25 — There is little difference between the policy followed by a central bank and one suggested by monetary reformers, in the opinion of Graham F. Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada.

Addressing the Board of Trade here, Mr. Towers said that expansion during a period of economic depression, a banking policy advocated by many monetary reformers, is the principle followed by a central bank.

The main difference between the two policies, he said, would be merely a difference of agreement as to where the line of expansion should be drawn.

One of the major services which the Bank of Canada could render, the bank governor continued, would be to determine the amount of cash reserves in the commercial bank.

These banks were legally required to have a minimum cash reserve against deposits of five per cent but in practice, he said, they often had as high a reserve as 20 per cent.

There was no set rule to guide the Bank of Canada, Mr. Towers explained. A central bank must watch all the various signs of business activity carefully.

DEBTS TREND DEEPLY STIRS TRADE BOARD

Governmental Attitude On Contract Sanctity Deplored

CHARLOTTETOWN, Sept. 25.—"A definite and apparently increasing tendency in certain quarters to depart from that rigid honesty involving sanctity of all contracts and obligations, provincial and personal," was noted by the Maritime Board of Trade yesterday.

In a resolution passed at the closing session of the annual convention which expressed "gravest concern" in view of the trend, the association sought to "earnestly impress upon the federal government its profound seriousness."

Sanctity of all contracts and obligations in the past had been accepted everywhere as traditionally and characteristically Canadian, the resolution stated.

The federal government was urged to use its "full prerogative to maintain the credit and standing of all Canada because of the "inevitable consequences upon the credit and reputation of the country" of the departure from traditional and characteristically honest observed, the resolution concluded.

CANADA TOLD TO PICK WAR POLICIES NOW

Escott Reid Hails Ian Mackenzie For Looking to Future

An earnest caution to Canadians to avoid the problems of a negative attitude to international affairs, and to think out in advance a consistent policy for the Dominion in the event of European conflict, was delivered Thursday by Escott Reid, of Toronto, secretary of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs.

Emphasizing that his views in no way represented the opinions of the institute, the visitor said that what it was conceivable, it was highly improbable, that Canada would be exposed to the menace of attack within the near future. At worst the Pacific coast might be subjected to pin-pricks. It would not be called upon to endure a frontal attack. The greatest technique of international relations stressed, rendered such a danger extremely unlikely.

NEUTRAL CANADA

Responding to a question put by the Bulletin reporter, Mr. Reid said that "the restrictive interpretation of the Covenant made it possible for Canada to maintain a position of honorable neutrality in the next war, if she so desired, since the automatic and general sanctions of the peace system appeared to be replaced by the major power obligations of regional pacts.

He foresaw three possible courses that were open to Canadians in defence policy. These were: to try to defend ourselves against aggression by our own unaided efforts; to work out in advance methods of co-operation either with the forces of the British Commonwealth or the forces of the United States; to rely frankly upon the United States to defend us in order to defend herself.

Quoting Premier Mackenzie King's statement that "Canada was fortunate in her neighbors and in the ocean that divides us," he suggested the advisability of having the electorate consider means of preserving the value of the Dominion's present favorable position in international relationships.

HAILS MACKENZIE

He congratulated Hon. Ian Mackenzie, minister of national defence, for arousing Canadians to the urgent necessity of paying attention to the needs of their national defence. He asserted that the formulation of a foreign policy in the untroubled days of peace would be in the best interests of the nation, as the stress of war made it difficult to appreciate the basic aspirations of a people.

The national secretary, who is now on a tour of all branches of the Institute in Canada, leaves for Calgary Friday night. He will be speaking to various units of his organization for the next few weeks.

SLAYER OF BEST FRIEND GIVEN 10-YEAR TERM

Famous English Trial Ends In Old Bailey Court

LONDON, Sept. 25—Sentence of 10 years' penal servitude was passed upon Linford Derrick, 41, of Ealing, convicted of manslaughter today. The victim was Arthur Reid Wheeler, the same age as Derrick and also of Ealing, whom the prisoner described as his best friend.

The jury which heard the case in Old Bailey court reduced the charge from murder to manslaughter. Mr. Justice Greaves-Lord termed it "a very merciful view."

BECAME JEALOUS

According to the prosecution, Wheeler became jealous of the prisoner's association with his wife. The prisoner denied that was justified.

He said Wheeler attacked him one day with a truncheon. The room became a shambles and while Wheeler had him by the throat he struck wildly. When the encounter was over Wheeler was dead.

LENIENT SENTENCE

Mr. Justice Greaves-Lord described the sentence as lenient and said it would have been unknown in such a crime a few years back.

Derrick for several years was official coach of the Lawn Tennis Association. He also coached boys in tennis at several historic schools

GARDINER HERE TO CONFER ON RELIEF PLANS

Says Alberta Should Embrace Saskatchewan Drought Debt Plan

Completing a survey of drought stricken areas in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, Hon. James G. Gardiner, federal minister of Agriculture, arrived in Edmonton Friday morning to confer with the Alberta government on a federal scheme for placing single unemployed men on farms for the winter.

He will also discuss rehabilitation plans for farmers in the drought area, and outline the general scheme of the federal government to salvage farmers from nonproductive lands.

Mr. Gardiner was met on arrival from Calgary by James A. MacKinnon, M.P., for West Edmonton, with whom he breakfasted. He was accompanied by his secretary, D. M. Allen.

EVOLVES PLAN

The drought area in Saskatchewan and Alberta stretches from the south-east border north to Lloydminster and south from that point through Calgary to the south-western boundary. In these areas crop returns for the last five years averaged 5½ bushels to the acre, while in many districts seven successive crop failures have been sustained, he said.

Debt adjustment in Alberta will be undertaken by the federal government on the initiative of the province, stated Mr. Gardiner, while if it is possible that a soil survey will be undertaken similar to that which has been completed in Saskatchewan by the federal department of agriculture.

Under the Saskatchewan scheme of debt adjustment Mr. Gardiner said the federal government would remit all debts owing for seed grain and relief, the province of government would cancel debts owing for taxes and the provincial land tax, while the municipal government cancel debts owing them for taxes. No scaling down of mortgage debts was contemplated under the plan of negotiation with the lending companies.

TAKES RESPONSIBILITY

Mr. Gardiner stated the federal government had taken the entire responsibility for relief in the dried-out areas for the coming winter, it being evident that successive crop failures in these districts were a national calamity and national measures to meet them should be borne by the Dominion.

Mr. Gardiner will spend Friday and Saturday here in conference with members of the Alberta government, executive of the Liberal party and friends in the city.

He was scheduled to address a luncheon meeting of the Chamber of Commerce in the Macdonald hotel at 12:30 today.

COURT REBATES SPEEDING FINE

The appeal of K. S. Campbell against a $15 fine and costs imposed by Magistrate Robert C. Young, Leduc magistrate, on a speeding charge was allowed by His Honor Judge Dubue in district court Friday morning.

The appeal, which was in the nature of a test case, was argued by C. H. Grant, K.C., who was taken to determine disposition of five other appealing charges pending. It is understood these will now be withdrawn.

The offence is alleged to have occurred at Millet. The charge against the appellant being that he operated his automobile at an excessive speed through Millet, a built up consideration for the state of the highway at that point.

Evidence was given that Mr. Campbell was driving at 20 miles an hour when overtaken by the Millet police officer, who told the court he estimated the speed at 39 miles an hour.

Hospital Named In Damage Application

Application to have the Lloydminster hospital joined as defendant in the $50,000 damage action brought by George S. Abel, against Dr. G. L. Cooke, Lloydminster, for injuries received by X-ray burns while confined in the hospital was made in Supreme Court chambers Friday morning on behalf of the plaintiff to the effect. Judgment was reserved for one week.

It is alleged that negligence of hospital employees contributed to the injury by Mr. Abel. Since suffering the burns Mr. Abel has been a patient at the University hospital here receiving treatment for the burns.

TRANS-PACIFIC FLIGHT

BEGIN HERE TODAY

KAY DUNN, pretty airplane stewardess, falls in love with TED GRAHAM, veteran pilot who flies the trans-Pacific route.

Ted, however, is not interested in romance. He is devoted to two interests: his job in the air service and his adopted son, DICKIE, 7 years old. Dickie and Kay become close friends and soon the three spend much time together.

One night Kay and Ted have a long talk in which he explains his views on marriage. To be successful, he says, a marriage must be planned scientifically, just as a plane flight. Kay does not agree to all this, but when he asks her to marry him she says yes.

The marriage takes place and the honeymoon is a flight to the Orient. Later, with Ted away for weeks at a time, Kay is lonely. She tries to keep busy, caring for her home and for Dickie. Ted is working on an invention, when he is in port, spends less and less time at home.

Kay is deeply disappointed because he is unable to be home for Christmas. She gives a dinner party and later goes with three friends, DORIS LEE, RALPH BANGS and MONTE BLAINE, to dance.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVII

WHEN Ted returned home, three days after Christmas, Kay met him at the dock with Dickie at her side.

"The little wife waiting with open arms!" she thought, as the giant flying ship settled down in the harbor and taxied up to the landing.

Ted came to her, his tanned face beaming. He gathered her in his arms, and, for one quivering moment, under the feeling of his hard embrace she yielded completely to him again. But the moment was quickly gone.

She began to talk of things that had happened since he had left.

"Was old Santa Claus good to you?" Ted said to Dickie. "Sorry I didn't make it home with my presents in time for the tree, but I've got them in my duffle bag."

"I want an aviation helmet with 10,000 hours in the air on it," Dickie said.

"All right, you'll have mine!" Ted replied, laughing. "It's practically worn out anyway."

"And what do you want?" he said to Kay.

She looked up at him. "You always seem to know just what pleases me, Ted," she said quietly.

"But nothing special? Nothing in jade to match those gorgeous eyes!"

"Oh, Ted, don't tease!" she said. "Of course I'm dying to see what you brought."

He took a box from his pocket and opened it, disclosing the loveliest jade bracelet she had ever seen.

"Oh, it's beautiful!" She stood up on her toes and kissed him.

But they were both strangely quiet during the drive back to the house built on the sands. Ted sensed that something had come between them.

He said, "Darling, you're not worried about anything?"

"No."

"Did I miss a big Christmas dinner? Whom did you invite?"

"Doris and her crowd. And, of course, Jerry."

"I'm glad you asked Jerry," Ted said. "We hadn't missed a Christmas dinner together for almost 20 years."

* * *

Kay laughed. "That's what he kept telling us. I'm afraid he talked too much. He told what a gay dog you were in Paris in wartime!"

Ted smiled. "Good old Jerry."

"People drifted in during the evening," Kay said, "and then we went to the Palace and danced until almost morning."

Ted gave her a quick look. "We—"

"Monte Blaine and I and Doris and Ralph. We went to hear Dudley Nix sing. He has a grand orchestra."

For a long while Ted was silent, and he appeared to be thinking hard about something. But when at last he turned to her he squeezed her hand. "I'm glad you had a good time," he said. "After all, Christmas only comes once a year."

Kay thought about those words for some time. The more she thought about them the more she imagined it was Ted's way of telling her she was forgiven for an escapade that might happen once a year. Kay, however, wanted to dance once a week, twice a week—not once during the year! Evidently Ted hadn't come to understand her need for gaiety.

But they did not mention the party again that day. Next morning Kay heard from Doris that Ted had called Monte in and lectured him. It was something Doris explained elaborately, about Monte's last trip as an apprentice pilot. Monte, overnight in Honolulu, had done some celebrating and it had been reported to Ted.

Ted had said sternly, "Monte, you're my friend, but there are some things about you that make me doubtful about your ability to fly the trans-Pacific route. The old order of courageous flying demons is out! On this trans-oceanic flight you must be merely an engineer."

Everybody in the colony knew that Ted had bawled Monte out, and everybody knew that Monte had been seen dancing with Ted's wife Christmas night. Quite naturally, they connected the two.

Kay herself thought that this was Ted's answer to her harmless escapade. She waited until Ted came home, tired and worried over some detail of his precious gyropilot. He had picked up a newspaper to read when she interrupted. "Ted," she said, "I heard about what you said to Monte Blaine today. Everybody knows you jacked him up about something."

He put down the newspaper and merely looked at her. "Oh, Monte!" he said. Then he smiled. "He needed it, the young devil. Monte is a little bit spoiled. I could hardly keep from laughing at the hurt-puppy look on his face. Don't worry about that. We're still good friends, and—"

"But that isn't what people will say at the airport," she objected. "They'll say you bawled him out because he went dancing with me."

Ted seemed actually surprised. "But—but I never thought about that! It's just that we can't tolerate—"

"Tolerate!" Kay exclaimed. "Monte goes out with a pretty girl in Honolulu to dance, and you can't tolerate it!"

"That wasn't my information," Ted said slowly. "Monte disobeyed rules."

"He's not a machine. He can't go on and on, like your airplanes, until he's used up and junked!"

Ted eyed her. There was in his look the quiet resolution that she had once admired so much. He said, quietly, "Kay, who knows men better—you or I? Who knows flying qualities better? I've seen aviation from its infancy. For five years we planned this trans-Pacific flight—scientifically."

"Plan, plan, plan!" she said. "I'm sick of the word. I'm sick of running a scientific household, too! Diets! Budgets! Vegetables without salt! One dollar a month for cosmetics and twenty for gasoline! That's what planning means to a man."

Ted smiled indulgently, and it made Kay more furious. "Don't look at me as though you were indulging a silly little girl!" she exclaimed.

"Kay!" he said, with feeling.

But she raged on. "The trans-Pacific flight is everything to you. Nothing else counts."

For the first time Ted looked troubled. But he let her continue.

"This home," Kay went on, "is just a place where you rest your weary head. The little wife, waiting in port with open arms. Poor, simple thing with her household duties! A well-ordered life ashore, Dickie is just a reflection of yourself—an eaglet! Where do I fit in? I'm a glorified housekeeper!"

"Kay!" Ted said, "you don't mean all that. You've let some gossip prey on your mind. You're hysterical—"

"Look at me," she said on the verge of tears. "I married a man, and now what have I become—a trained engineer! I wanted you to be crazy about me. I thought we'd have fun together. We're human—not robots or gyropilots. Automatic steering devices in a plane—"

"Kay!" Ted cried compassionately, gathering her into her arms. "You don't mean what you're saying. I have my job, and I have you. I can't be with you as much as other men who have jobs on land can be with their wives, but I do love you, Kay. I'm crazy about you. It wouldn't matter to me if you threw all the housekeeping overboard, and hired a raft of servants! But I don't think you'd want that. Now what do you want?"

Kay was sobbing on his shoulder, and he held her closer.

"I don't know what I want," she said, "except you! I want to enjoy more things with you. I want you to care whether I'm happy."

He laughed and picked her up in his arms.

INTERMISSION

The two were fellow passengers in the club car of a westbound train.

"So you're an actor, eh?" muttered the stout man. "Well, I'm a banker. And would you believe it, I haven't been near a theatre in five years."

"That's nothing at all," responded the actor, breezily. "I haven't been near a bank in ten years!"
